CONTRACTORS ASK FOR MORE LIGHT ON HIGH SCHOOL CONTRACTS

SITUATION OF RUMANIAN ARMIES BELIEVED TO BE CRITICAL

REMARKABLE STATEMENT IN REGARD TO GERMAN PEACE TERMS

Already several Lowell contractors and builders have called at the lands and buildings department at city hall to inquire about the terms of the contracts for the new high school. By vote of the municipal council the bidding is confined to Lowell men and the department is calling for bids to be figured on seven separate contracts, viz:

Contract for excavation and foundation.
Contract for brick and structural work.
Contract for metal furring and lathing.
Contract for plastering.
Contract for carpenter work.
Contract for painting.
Contract for plumbing, gas piping and vacuum cleaning.

Bids have not yet been called for on the heating and ventilating or on the electrical work, but the plans and specifications are expected from the Kimball company of Boston within a week. These plans will include those for a possible power plant, which may be accepted or rejected later by the municipal council.

The plans and specifications for the new high school make up a bulky document. There are over 200 pages, including the general contract, the terms of the separate agreement contracts, etc.

There are also 35 large blue prints ready for the inspection of those who may be interested. There are eight sheets for plumbing alone, 15 on the plans and power plant and 12 on steel construction. Representatives of local firms were looking over the specifications and the blue prints this morning and keen competition is expected in some departments of the work.

SUPERIOR COURT CASES HEARD TODAY

The members of the Cambridge board of assessors testified before Judge Dana this forenoon in the case of George L. Brackett vs. the city of Cambridge, an action by which the plaintiff seeks to have his 1915 taxes abated. The assessors defended the property involved and told of giving a hearing to Mr. Brackett in December and later refusing the abatement. The plaintiff paid his tax bill in 1915 under protest for excessive valuation. The evidence in the case was completed this afternoon.

In the session with jury arguments were made before Judge Keating in the action of Alexios Mariadis vs. Beggs & Cobb Tanning Co. of Winchester. The plaintiff in this case sued for $5000 for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained in an accident in the plant of the defendant company on May 1, 1912. The case was given to the jury this afternoon.

The trial of the case of James Regis vs. Antonio Sampolatos, both of Lowell, was opened before Judge Keating this afternoon. The suit is for the recovery of personal property alleged to be worth about $1820. The property includes the stock and equipment of a Market Street tonic store.

The jury waived session of court, which opened in the city a week ago Monday, was adjourned this afternoon until next May. But four cases were tried during the trial.

BOY, RUN OVER LEGS OFF; IS DEAD

John Collins, aged five years, residing at 13 England street, had both legs taken off this morning about 11 o'clock as a result of being run over by a freight train on what is known as the old Salem branch of the Boston & Maine road. He was taken in an automobile to St. John's hospital where everything possible was done to alleviate his sufferings, but being unable to survive the shock and the loss of blood he died shortly after 1 o'clock.

The accident happened near the River-street school and although no one was an eye witness, it is thought that the boy was playing on the tracks near the cars when the train started and the wheels passed over his legs.

His cries attracted the attention of persons in the vicinity and the ambulance was summoned. A man passing in an automobile seeing the condition of the child placed the latter in the automobile and hurried to St. John's hospital.

The situation of the Rumanian armies defending Bucharest appears increasingly critical.

Only to the northwest of the capital do the Rumanian lines seem to be holding at all firmly and even here the capture of Curtea de Arges, on the Argechu river, although that point is 80 miles distant from Bucharest, seems to indicate a weakening of the Rumanian resistance in this direction. On the southwest the permovement of the central powers placing their forces within 40 miles of the capital. News despatches have reported the Rumanian government and diplomatic officials leaving Bucharest for Jassy, 200 miles northeast of the capital, near the Russian frontier.

The rapid progress made by Gen. von Falkenhayn's armies moving east in Rumania of course has been largely made possible by the operations of the Danube forces under Field Marshal von Mackensen. Flanked out of the Alt valley position by the crossing of the river at Zimnita, the Rumanian line along the Vedeia running diagonally northwest from the Danube, likewise is imperilled by the Teutonic occupation of Gurgiu, an advance from which would quickly compel a Rumanian retreat.

WOMAN CLAIMS FORTUNE IN CANADA

LAST Saturday morning Mayor O'Donnell received a letter from Dr. S. Boldue of St. Michael, Bellechasse county, province of Quebec, inquiring about the children of one F. H. Blouin, who died in Hotel Dieu hospital, Quebec city, last spring. This man made a will of which Mr. Boldue says he is executor and left about $5000 to his children who were said to be in Lowell. The doctor wished to find out the whereabouts of the children and their mother.

The letter was published in the papers of Saturday. Yesterday an elderly woman called to the mayor's office and put in a claim to the fortune. She represented herself as Mrs. Victoria Blouin (nee Parent) and said that she was married to Francis

Blouin about 10 years ago. The marriage was solemnized in the parish of St. Valere, which is next to that of Berthier.

Thirty years ago, she said, she left him. There were six children, all of whom are now scattered, but one son lives in Lowell. She says she is sure that she is the widow of the man referred to as he had a cousin named Mr. Boldue. Mrs. Blouin said she works for a living as a washerwoman, and she requested the mayor to get in touch with Dr. Boldue and state her claim to the $5000 left by F. H. Blouin. Mayor O'Donnell has written and mentioned the statement as given to him by Mrs. Victoria Blouin.

DEALERS SELL ROTTEN FRUIT IN LOWELL

A number of local fruit dealers and grocers are selling rotten fruit and nuts, according to Frederick L. Marion, inspector of food and drugs for the state, and this morning he applied to Judge Thomas J. Enright of the local police court for warrants against these men, but the court suspended action in order to publicly notify these dealers and give them a chance to be more careful in the future. According to Mr. Marion, who has been purchasing nuts and fruit in various stores during the past week, between 20 and 30 per cent of what were sold him were not fit to sell.

At the opening of this morning's session Judge Enright, addressing the newspapermen, said that complaints for warrants had been made against a number of fruit dealers and grocers who are selling nuts and fruit that are decayed. He said he wished to give these dealers a chance to be more careful but that if any further complaints were made he would issue warrants for their appearance in court. Judge Enright told Inspector Marion to report to him within a week whether or not there is any improvement in local conditions.

JOSEPH ANDREWS ROBBED IN STORE BY ARMED MEN

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—While Joseph Andrews was alone in his provision store, 1865 Columbus avenue, Roxbury, about 8:10 last night, he was held up by two young men, one of whom kept him quiet at the point of a revolver, while the other robbed the cash register and safe of $110 and a check for $35. The men then fled, with Andrews in pursuit, shouting for help, but he soon lost sight of them and returned to his store.

Andrews told the police the men were about 22 or 23 years old, dressed in dark clothes and light caps. They came into the store together, and while Andrews was looking at one of them, who started to talk, the other pushed a revolver into his face with the demand: "We want your money."

Andrews was cowed by the revolver, and one of the young robbers took $15 in silver from the cash register and then went to the rear part of the store, where he took $125 in bills and the check from the open safe.

The men ran to Columbus avenue and escaped through a side street. Andrews called Station 10 by telephone and Lieut. Hennessey sent the auto patrol and a squad of policemen. The police arrived within five minutes, but a search of the neighborhood failed to find the robbers.

POLICE OFFICER DEMOTED

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 29.—The police commission yesterday penalized Patrolman George F. Henry, Jr., on charges of abusive acts and conduct toward a prisoner, Robert Wright, Jr., son of Mrs. Gertrude M. Wright of 260 Pearl street. Henry was demoted in grade and ordered to perform ten extra tours of duty without pay. Chief Quilly will have the order read to all members of the force that abuse of prisoners by officers would meet with the punishment deserved.

DIGESTION WORTH HAVING

Good digestion is not appreciated until you lose it. Then you cannot afford to experiment on remedies. Strong medicines are hard on weak stomachs. To be able to eat what you want and to digest it is a priceless blessing. If you have lost it do not be deceived by the claims of predigested foods and stomach tonics, so-called.

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. As the blood goes everywhere, an improvement in its condition quickly results in strengthening weak organs. Rich, red blood is absolutely necessary to digestion. If your stomach is weak and you are troubled with gas, sour risings in the throat, a feeling of pressure about the heart and palpitation, try the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

So many dyspeptics have been helped by this simple treatment that every sufferer from stomach trouble should try it. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has issued a booklet "What to Eat and How to Eat" that should be in every home. It gives just the information that you want regarding your diet. The company will mail Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, postpaid, at fifty cents per box or your own druggist can supply you.

MANY PROTESTS FILED AGAINST ELECTION

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Whether or not a new election will be ordered by the international officers, in place of the primary election of the Boston Street Carriers' union, the results of which were announced yesterday afternoon, and which showed that practically an entire new list of officers is possible, could not be stated at the headquarters of the union last night.

Protests against the manner in which the election was held were filed by scores of voters when they cast their ballots on Monday. All of the protests were made by members of the union, and were based on the grounds that the election was held in a manner which was not in accordance with the constitution of the union. The protests were made by members of the union, and were based on the grounds that the election was held in a manner which was not in accordance with the constitution of the union.

The first woman to be elected to the union was Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, chairman of the sodality had general charge. The winners at cards were Miss Laura Coker and Mrs. Roger Hayes, first and second women's prizes, respectively, and Fred Bush and Anthony Powers, first and second men's prizes. Consolation prizes were also awarded Mrs. John Walsh and Joseph Mayhew.

The committee in charge comprised Mrs. E. ### Proved 300 Times

The fact that Edison's new invention, the New Edison, Re-Creates the human voice with such literal fidelity that the living voice cannot be distinguished from the Re-Creation of it has been demonstrated in public more than 300 times.

Great artists such as Marie Rappold, Anna Case, Alice Verlet, Christine Miller, Arthur Middleton and Thomas Chalmers, standing beside the New Edison, have sung alternately with it, and it is a fact which can be proved by accounts of these astounding tests in more than two hundred of America's leading newspapers, that it was impossible for the audience to distinguish the artists' living voices from Edison's Re-Creation of them on his latest and greatest invention, the New Edison.

WORLD'S FAIR IDEA IS OPPOSED

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The World's Fair idea for celebrating the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims was opposed as inconsistent with the ideals of the forefathers by Capt. Charles Brooks Appleton, past commander of the National Landmarks Society, at a meeting of the Society of Colonial Wars in Young's hotel yesterday afternoon.

Captain Appleton declared the Pilgrims were not "money grabbers," and said he believed most of the members of the patriotic societies are not in favor of spending millions of dollars in Boston to observe the landing at Plymouth. He suggested that the societies appoint delegates to a joint meeting for the purpose of discussing the anniversary.

If there is to be such a celebration in Boston, Capt. Appleton said, the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston in 1630 would be a more appropriate occasion.

Something Roosevelt Didn't Know
Fred Arnold Jenks, who has recently returned to Plymouth, his birthplace, after a residence of about 20 years in Boston, suggested that a proper memorial for the patriotic societies to erect in his home town might include statues of both Gov. Bradford and Gov. Winthrop to set forth in visitors the difference between the Pilgrims and the Puritans.

Jenks pointed out that Col. Roosevelt, in his address at the laying of the cornerstone of the Provincetown monument, was not aware of this distinction.

Desmond Fitzgerald of Brookline urged that it would be preferable to have the Plymouth statue erected in original condition as a setting for Plymouth rock. Charles F. Reed of Brookline suggested that the patriotic societies might raise the money necessary to carry out this plan.

Mr. Jenks spoke of the growth of the town meeting in contrast with the town meeting in January, 1630, he said, a town meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Bradford. It is possible that even then the women of the colony had begun their fight for suffrage. The suffragists of today must envy Bradford's women of the town must have had some influence.

Praises the Town Meeting
"The politician does not love the town meeting. It is too hard to handle. It is a lamentable condition of the present day and the people are moved so much and trusted so little."

The great business of major baseball today recruits its ranks from two sources, the colleges and the sandlots. It is difficult to tell which is best. It is the man from the colleges who brings a greater degree of scientific knowledge, the boy from the sandlots brings natural ability, initiative and pluck.

"The ranks of our younger politicians are recruited from two sources, the colleges and the sandlots. It is sometimes difficult to tell which is the worst. The college man, with a superficial knowledge, with his education merely by rote, doubts the ability of the farmer who supported him to govern himself."

"The young world leader after one year in the legislature, backed by a strong political club, with the respect and worship of the halo of egotism, knows the people cannot govern themselves, else why was he born to rule."

For my own part, too modest to seek public office and not inclined to fight for it, rather old-fashioned, I submit a profound respect, awe, reverence for those men of the early days who with the faith of God, belief in themselves and confidence in their fellow men, trusted first the universal vote."

ICE CAME DOWN RIVER
The sight of small pieces of ice in the Merrimack river and several of the local channels yesterday gave rise to the impression that spring instead of winter is approaching. The ice is supposed to have come down from New Hampshire. Considerable ice went over the Pawtucket falls while other pieces found their way into the Pawtucket canal and thence into the Western canal, a considerable amount floating under the arch in Merrimack street at the Y.M.C.A. building.

O.M.I. CADET MEETING
A meeting of the O.M.I. Cadets as well as the drum corps connected with that organization has been called for tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the Y.M.C.A. building. The meeting will arrange for the reception to be tendered Cardinal O'Connell on Sunday.

"AMERICA FIRST" EVENT BY BOARD OF TRADE

GRAND BANQUET ARRANGED FOR DEC. 7 AT THE KASINO—PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Officials of the board of trade are sending out invitations to the members to attend the "America First" banquet, which will be given under the auspices of the organization at the Casino on Thursday evening, Dec. 7. Those who desire to attend the festivities are requested to reply to the invitations Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 6 p. m., which date has been set as the latest for the making of reservations for the dinner.

The speakers at the dinner will be George W. Perkins of New York, whose topic will be "The Need of Cooperation in American Industry," and H. H. Wheaton of Washington, D. C. Word was received yesterday from R. C. Klett, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, to the effect that he will be unable to come to Lowell on account of being a member of the recently appointed commission to go into the subject of the munitions manufacture by the government and by private concerns. The dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock sharp and as usual favors will be given to the guests.

EMPEROR PRAYS AT THE BIER OF FRANCIS JOSEPH

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 29.—A Berlin official telegram says that the German emperor arrived in Vienna yesterday morning and left the city in the evening. Owing to a slight cold the emperor's physicians prevailed upon him to abandon his intention of attending the funeral of Emperor Francis Joseph. The telegram says:

"The German emperor refused to announce his duty of bidding farewell, both personally and as supreme head of the allied German forces, to the deceased ruler. The emperor stayed quietly in prayer at the bier of Francis Joseph, on which he laid a wreath. The emperor especially requested that the official reception be accorded him. The day was thus devoted entirely to the memory of the deceased and to a talk with the young imperial couple, with whom the emperor expressed an ardent desire to have a long visit in those earnest days."

YOUTH NEARLY DROWNED IN BEAVER BROOK

John Calhoun, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun of Pleasant street, Duxbury, had a narrow escape from drowning in Beaver Brook yesterday, but for the assistance rendered by Joseph Knight young Calhoun might have drowned.

Calhoun was starting on his ice boat when the ice broke and he was into the water. His cries attracted the attention of many of the employees of the Beaver Brook mills and some ropes and plank were thrown to him. Knight succeeded in pulling the plank to Calhoun and more of the ice broke and Knight was also unaccompanied into the water. A rope was thrown to him and when he caught it, he was pulled ashore.

In the meanwhile Calhoun was held on to the plank and after Knight reached him, he succeeded in grasping the end of the plank and rescuing Calhoun. Neither was much the worse for their experience.

nature and high ideals and always had the love and respect of a wide circle of friends. She was a devoted wife and mother and the memory of her husband, the late John J. Mahoney, was so fresh in her mind that her most intimate friends were careful to refrain from mentioning him in her presence. She was born in Lowell and lived all her life in St. Patrick's parish, being prominent in many church activities until ill health forced her to retire from the more active duties. She was constantly doing acts of charity and kindness and her influence will be missed by those who had come to know her great worth. She leaves one daughter, Miss Mary Mahoney, in whose presence she took great pride and on whom she lavished a real mother's affection.

MULLEN—Mrs. Mary Mullen, widow of Peter Mullen, died this morning at her home, No. 31 Stanley street, after a long illness. Mrs. Mullen was an old resident of the parish and a pioneer of St. Michael's church. She was a member of the Rosary sodality since its organization. She is survived by one son, James, four daughters, Miss Mary Mullen, Mrs. John Bailey, Mrs. John Pevey and Mrs. Peabody Birehall, and several grandchildren.

FUNERALS

MANSEAU—The funeral of Miss Anne Marie Manseau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manseau, took place yesterday afternoon at the home of her mother in Kenwood. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers Amédée Archambault & Son.

COTE—The funeral of Ernest Cote, son of George and Blanche Cote, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of his parents, 10 Essex street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albart.

AIKEN—The funeral services of Mrs. Mary Aiken were held at her home at Springfield, Monday afternoon. The body was brought to Lowell and services held at the grave in the Edison cemetery, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Wm. F. Edgett, pastor of the Kirk street Congregational church, officiated. The local arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Young & Blake.

RUSSELL—The funeral services of Benjamin Russell were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. P. Barabank, 18 Edgith avenue, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Arthur G. Lyon, pastor of the Wakefield Congregational church. The officiators were Messrs. George W. Russell, Edgar P. Barabank and Sumner Murray. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where the services were held, and was conducted by Mr. Lyon. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers Young & Blake.

PARKHURST—The funeral of Miss Lucy E. Parkhurst was held from her home, 26 Highland avenue, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. George W. Edgith, pastor of the First Baptist church. The bearers were Messrs. E. C. Goodale, P. H. Dechy, J. Holman and J. M. Alden. Burial was in the family lot in Rockwood cemetery, North Andover, where the funeral service was read by Rev. Mr. Reichbald. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers Young & Blake.

AIKEN—Mrs. Mary Aiken, who organized a boarding house on the Lawrence corporation over 35 years ago, died Sunday night at the home of her son, Edward L. Aiken in Springfield. She was aged 87 years and 11 months and was well known by a number of the older residents of this city. She was born in England and came to America when a young woman. She settled in Nashua, where she kept a boarding house on the Jackson corporation. She later came to this city and opened a boarding house on the Lawrence corporation. The funeral was held in Springfield and today the body was buried here. Burial was in the Edison cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers Young & Blake.

PRADA—The funeral of Manuel Prada took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the home of his parents, Antonio and Maria Prada, 178 Thayer street. Burial was in the Edison cemetery. Undertakers M. H. McEloughlin were in charge.

CHASE—Annie M. Chase, widow of Charles E. Chase, died Wednesday morning at the Lowell General hospital, aged 23 years, 2 months and 5 days. Burial was in the Edison cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers M. H. McEloughlin.

SAWYER—Died Nov. 29th, in this city, Mrs. Mary E. Sawyer, aged 92 years, 2 months and 21 days, at 31 Washington street. She is survived by her nephew, Mr. Albert S. Child, Miss Sawyer having taught in Boston schools from 1855 to 1881, a period of nearly 30 years. Beginning at the Boylston school and later at the Quincy school. She was always interested in musical matters and sang in the chorus at the School Street Universalist church, Boston Unitarian church, East Cambridge and Unitarian church in Lowell.

COOKE—The funeral of Emma E. Cooke took place this morning from her late home, 20 West Sixth street, at 8:15 o'clock and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Michael's church where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. James Lynch. The choir sang the Gregorian mass. The bearers were Andrew J. Finnegan, Jr., Patrick Sullivan, James P. Morrison, Frederick Roddy, Daniel A. McQuade and Patrick Bayley. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. James Lynch read the committal prayers. Undertaker Peter H. Savage in charge of the funeral arrangements. Among the floral tributes were a willow inscribed "sister," from the family; wreath inscribed "Aunt Emma," from nieces and nephews; wreath on base inscribed "Emma," from Mr. and Mrs. William H. ## BURKE READY TO MEET NEBES IN BIG RACE

Harry Burke, the Bridgeport skater, and Albert Nebes, the local flyer, have finally come to terms over the proposed roller skating race to be held here next week. The match, calls for three races on three nights, the man winning the best two out of three copping the side bet as well as the long end of the prize offered by Manager Moore of the Rollaway rink. Mr. Burke, in answer to Mr. Nebes' letter accepting his challenge, writes as follows:

Dear Sir: In your letter and also in the copy of your paper received by me I saw where Mr. Nebes has accepted my challenge. To show you I am sincere about this race, I am sending you a money order for $100 (and also one to the Paradise of the Courier-Citizen for same amount) as Mr. Nebes has decided to take me on for $200 a side and I have asked that each paper hold back, which is satisfactory to me. As for dates, would you say that I had previous arrangements for Dec. 7th but have just phoned my party and find that some other date will answer him as well, so will be in Lowell to meet this match talked of skating on the dates Dec. 7th, 8th and 9th for 2 mile, 3 mile and 4 mile races respectively.

Trusting this agreement and money order will be found in order and that distances meet Mr. Nebes' approval, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Harry Burke,
Bridgeport, Conn.

AT THE ROLLAWAY

Billy Carpenter, Champion Fancy and Trick Skater, Opens Engagement Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Billy Carpenter, the world's champion fancy and trick roller skater, will make his first appearance in Lowell in ten years, when he will open a three days' engagement at the Rollaway rink on Hurd street. Billy is a former Lowell boy, leaving the city 10 years ago as an ordinary skater, and his return with the championship title, is an achievement that all his friends and admirers are elated over. They plan to turn out in large numbers to greet him, during his stay in the Spindle City. The champion will arrive in Lowell tomorrow morning and several of his close friends intend to meet him at the depot, to welcome him back to his native city. After renewing acquaintances, Billy will spend his way to the rink, where he will try out the various stunts that made him famous throughout the world. He will put on a considerable show for the crowd, and at his best, when the crowd appears for his initial performance tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. He will perform tomorrow afternoon and evening, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening. The matinee will be at 2:30 o'clock, while the evening performances will be at 8 o'clock. Admission 10 cents. Regular skating before and after the exhibition.

LEAGUE RESULTS AND BOWLING SCORES

The White Ways captured two strings and the total from the league leading Kimballs in an important match in the City Bowling League last evening. Jodoin of the Kimballs was high mark with a total of 319 and a single of 130. His score was the best of the evening though Varney of the Newtons beat him two pins on a single string. The Newton Mfg. Co., Crestons and Highland Daylights were the other winners, defeating Carr's, the Jewels and Boyds.

Two games were rolled on Kirtledge's alleys in the Barara League, the Highland Congregational and Highland Methodist teams winning over the Pawtucketville Congregational and the Trinitarian. The Merrimack alleys were the scene of two red hot Broadway League games and the Bridge street alleys staged two matches in the Bridge street league.

INDIANS VS. FORT STRONG

Tomorrow afternoon the Indians of Lowell will play the Fort Strong eleven of Winthrop, and a red hot game is expected. The game will be played at Spalding park and will start at 2:30 o'clock.

STAPLES BARRIED

Haverhill Halfback Said to Have Given Wrong Answer to the Advisory Board

HAVERHILL, Nov. 28.—Haverhill high school's football team, which has not lost a game this season, may have its victories protested, owing to an exposure by the Lowell high school athletic officials that Homer Staples, Haverhill's halfback, was born in 1895. He presented a certificate showing that he was born in 1897 to his school's advisory board, of which he was a member.

The other members, representing the faculty, students and school committee, have dismissed him from the board, forbidden him to take part in school athletics and considering him as presenting false evidence. He is a senior. He played in all the games this season except with Lowell.

Haverhill's only remaining game, with St. John's, from Lawrence, on Thanksgiving morning, is the biggest of the schedule.

John Chipman, Retired Sailor,

Tells to His Friends an Interesting Story

In order that any man or woman may derive a full measure of pleasure and success from life, it is necessary that he or she should be possessed of health in mind and body. It is certain that the greatest thing in all the world is health, without it a man can scarcely do anything worth doing; he can accomplish little that is really worth accomplishing. Attention to health then should take the place of every other object that which is necessary to secure it should receive consideration in preference to everything else, as for instance, the new popular stomach remedy, Plant Juice, which is gaining such a following in Lowell, where daily grateful people are testifying to its merits and recommending it to their friends.

Recently the signed testimonial of Mr. John C. Chipman, a retired sailor, who lives now at the Soldiers Home, South Harbor, Quincy, Mass., was received. Mr. Chipman has sailed the seas for 65 years and is well known in all the harbors along the New England coast. He has hosts of friends who will be glad to learn of his recovery to health. He stated:

"For the past four years I was troubled with rheumatism contracted while at sea, and I had terrible pains all over my body. I could not sleep at night on account of the pain and would walk the floor all night long many a night. My stomach was in a very weak condition and I could hardly keep any food in it. I had such pains in my arms and shoulders that I could hardly move them. I had tried so many different kinds of medicine that I was very skeptical as to the value of any of them. When I heard so much about Plant Juice I would try it. I had little faith in its efficacy. After taking it for several weeks I was greatly surprised at the wonderful results I obtained. I can now eat any kind of food and have a good appetite for my meals. I sleep well at night and the pains have left my system. I consider myself entirely cured and am glad to recommend Plant Juice to all of my friends."

The Plant Juice Man is at the Dows Drug Store, in Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of the remedy.

LANCASTER LOSES TWO PROMINENT CITIZENS

LANCASTER, Mass., Nov. 29.—This town lost two prominent citizens by death today.

Harold Parker, former chairman of the state highway commission, died of a heart complaint at the age of 62 years. He was a member of the Wachusett mountain state reservation commission, and was a brother of Herbert Parker, former attorney general of Massachusetts.

A few hours after his return from a two weeks' hunting trip in North Carolina, Bayard Thayer, prominent here and in Boston, died of heart disease. He was 71 years of age.

LAWRENCE HIGH TO PLAY HERE TOMORROW

The big local high school football game of the season will be played at Spalding park tomorrow morning with Lawrence high, Lowell's old rivals, as opponents. The game will start at 10 o'clock and there will doubtless be a record crowd of graduates, undergraduates and other followers of the Lowell team.

Lowell high will go into the game a great favorite judging from the records of the teams this year. Lawrence, which started the season with a team made up almost entirely of new men, suffered many humiliating defeats but Coach Walter A. Sibley by hard work has assembled a team of eleven that has given other teams a hard battle in the past few games. Lawrence won its first game of the season about two weeks ago and has added another one since.

The Lowell team is in better shape than for several weeks. Capt. Liston is stronger than he was in the game with Dorchester Saturday. The other members of the team are in perfect condition.

Final preparations for tomorrow's game were made at Spalding park this afternoon when the players were put through a light signal drill in practice earlier in the week. Coach Conway gave the boys some severe work but took no chances so far as injuries were concerned. The teams are evenly matched in weight and the fans can look for a snappy game with Lowell on the winning end.

The student body of the Lowell high school has held several enthusiastic meetings this week and the attendance will easily break all records of the season. The Sixth regiment band has been engaged to play during the game and this will prove a great attraction. The students have rehearsed several new songs and cheers which they will sing for the first time tomorrow. It is also expected that Lawrence will send a big delegation of fans.

At 2:30 o'clock, both teams are in great condition for the battle and each will present its strongest line-up. The Fort Strong team defeated the Indians last season in the local team's final game by the score of 7 to 6. It was a battle royal, and tomorrow's contest is expected to be of the same order. The Indians have set up a fine record this season, by defeating the Orientals last Saturday and the Indians got back at the only team to humble them this season.

FIRE ON FRANKLIN ST. DESTROYED AN ELL

What threatened to be a dangerous fire broke out in the kitchen of the residence of Mr. Asa R. Plaisted, 61 Franklin street, shortly before five o'clock last night. That the fire was confined to the rear of the house was due to the early discovery, prompt response of the firemen and their effective work upon arriving on the scene.

The building is a two and a half story stone structure with the kitchen in the ell. About 11 o'clock Mrs. Plaisted, who was alone in the house, went down cellar to attend the furnace and had been there not more than five minutes when she heard a crackling sound and then smelled smoke. She rushed up stairs and found the interior of the kitchen ablaze. She shouted for help and an alarm was sent in from box 17.

When the department arrived the interior of the kitchen was like a roaring furnace and the blaze had worked its way up into the roof. After half an hour's battle the fire was under control, but not before the interior of the ell had been gutted.

Mrs. Plaisted was unable to state how the fire started owing to the fact that there had been no fire in the kitchen stove during the day, but Chief Saunders after making inquiries was of the opinion that Mrs. Plaisted accidentally started it herself. She had some clothes hanging on a rack over the stove and when she started for the cellar she took a candle. In taking the candle from the shelf to go toward the stairs the flame came in contact with the clothes and without noticing what had happened she went down stairs. It was very evident that the fire had its inception near the clothes hanger.

Mrs. Plaisted's pet canary was suffocated during the fire. When the firemen arrived, one of them noticed the cage rushed out of the house with it but the bird was dead.

Another Grass Fire
An alarm from box 524 at 5:03 yesterday afternoon gave the department a long run to Circuit avenue to extinguish a grass fire on land belonging to Damase Laporte.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, was held last night in Grafton hall, Chief Ranger Thomas F. Kelley presiding. Five applications for membership were read and two candidates for initiation were balloted upon and elected. The class initiation committee submitted an interesting report on the plans adopted for the initiation which is to take place in February. The social committee reported that arrangements for the social to be held the latter part of January were well under way. Under the order of new business many matters of importance were discussed and adopted. Under the good and welfare of the court, remarks of interest were made by Thomas Allen, Michael Reid and John P. Sullivan. After the meeting a social hour was held.

The members of Echo lodge, N.E.O.P. met in regular session last night and held its memorial service in honor of deceased members, the exercises being held in Post 155 hall. As the roll of departed members was read Misses were dropped in a vacant chair, which was draped, as was the charter of the lodge. Miss Ella McNabb played piano accompaniments during the service. Nomination of officers will take place at the next meeting of the lodge, Dec. 12.

Samuel H. Hines lodge, 56, K. of P.,

met in regular session last night, with Daniel E. Sharkey presiding. Reports of sick members were read. A letter was received from Grand Chancellor Harlan P. Knight in regard to the reception to be held in Lawrence on Dec. 3 for Supreme Chancellor Judge John J. Brown of Illinois. The rank of esquire was worked on one page for Lowell lodge. Election of officers will come at the next meeting.

TEXTILE COUNCIL ACTED ON WAGE INCREASE

At a meeting of the Lowell Textile council held last evening it was unanimously voted to refuse an increase in wages in the local mills less than 10 per cent.

Frank A. Warnock, president of the Trades and Labor council, was endorsed as the labor candidate for commissioner at a meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening with Vice President John W. Downing in the chair. No other candidate was endorsed.

A successful smoke talk was conducted in Old Fellows hall, Middlesex street last evening by Local 588, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of the organization of the union. Refreshments were served during the evening and a musical and literary program was given. The committee responsible for the success of the event consisted of Henry Hogan, Joseph Herley and Bert Robertson.

At a meeting of the Woolen and Worsted Weavers' union held last evening 37 new members were initiated and 12 applications for membership were received. Considerable other business was transacted.

A feature of last evening's meeting of the Cotton Weavers' union was the initiation of 102 members.

MILITARY TRAINING BETWEEN 12 AND 23

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Universal military training in some form as the solution of the recruiting problem for the army and navy, will be placed formally before congress during the coming session if Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee is successful in carrying out his announced program.

Senator Chamberlain said the virtual impossibility of recruiting the army up to the peace strength authorized in the national defense act already had been demonstrated. Both army and navy recruiting services are combating the country for men, he declared, with little success. The army has been unable to obtain even the 20,000 additional men provided for when the Mexican situation became acute, and the navy is making such slow progress with its increases that officials are perplexed.

The Chamberlain bill would require military training of all boys between 12 and 25 years of age except those specially exempted. The active division, composed of those between 15 and 22 years, would be known as the citizen army, and the younger corps as the citizen cadet corps.

GUN AND RIFLE CLUB GETS CUP FROM MR. COHO

The Gun and Rifle club of the U. S. Cartridge company held a memorable meeting last evening in the rooms of the organization in the children building, the special feature of the occasion being the presentation to the club of a beautiful silver cup by H. B. Coho, former business director of the local plant but now with the United Lead Co.

Mr. Coho, who is a life long member of the club, was unable to be present in person but was represented by John P. Kenney, who made an appropriate speech of presentation. The trophy was accepted by Louis Burnham, president of the club, and there was a splendid appreciation of Mr. Coho, who is now a member of the welfare department.

The cup, which is an especially beautiful one, will remain the permanent property of the club and will be contested for yearly by its individual marksmen. The winners each season are to have their names engraved upon its surface. This year's winner is James E. Doole of Andrews street. During the evening refreshments were served and the meeting closed with everybody in a thanksgiving spirit.

CHELMSFORD

The schools of Chelmsford will close this afternoon and remain closed until Monday, and many of the teachers have signified their intention to attend the 72nd annual meeting of the Massachusetts teachers' association in Boston on Friday. The morning address will be delivered by Governor McCall.

There was a grass fire last evening which threatened for a while to do serious damage. Before being put out it had burned a 100-foot strip along the railroad tracks from James Compton's house to David Ingham's.

The Unitarian Sunday school will give its annual party at the town hall and a large attendance is expected. At the union service to be held at the Unitarian church this evening at 7:30 Rev. E. A. Robinson will speak on "Merry Christmas with Our Thanksgiving."

Miss Susan S. McFarlin has recovered from her recent illness and is again teaching at the Centre school. Miss Florence Colpitts has returned to the village after an absence of more than a year.

CATHOLIC CHURCH SERVICES
Thanksgiving will be observed in most of the Catholic churches of Lowell by special services, and in some cases there will be requiem masses, requested by some of the patriotic or religious societies.

At St. Patrick's church there will be a mass for the deceased members of the Holy Name society at 8, and at 9 there will be a mass for the deceased members of the Clann-na-Gael, the United Brotherhood and the Irish martyrs who died in Dublin last Easter week.

At St. Michael's there will be a mass for the deceased members of the Holy Name society at 8 o'clock.

At the Immaculate Conception there will be a mass for the deceased members of the church at 9 o'clock.

At the Sacred Heart church there will be a mass for the recent Irish martyrs at 10 o'clock and many of the societies will form in their respective halls and will march to the church.

U. S. BUNTING CLUB TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Over 22 years ago a few men met and banded themselves together and formed the United States Bunting Club and Athletic association. During that time there has been many other clubs organized for the same purpose, but the Bunting club is the only one which has survived all these years. Nearly 400 members are enrolled on the club membership and the financial condition of the club has always been sound.

During the last ten years rapid strides have been made, and thousands of dollars have been expended which have resulted in one of the best up-to-date club buildings for athletic and social purposes and one of the most beautiful parks in the vicinity, a cinder track of five laps to the mile with bleachers and grandstands with a large seating capacity surrounding the athletic field. The Buntings have brought to Lowell all the crack runners of the United States and Canada, giving employment to thousands of people. They have had among their guests many prominent men, including Governor McCall and Senator Lodge.

They have a splendid record as an athletic organization and New England officials have awarded to them great praise for the way in which they have conducted their big athletic meets. They have done more for the advancement of outdoor athletic sports than any other organization in New England.

Thursday, Dec. 7, the Buntings will observe the 22d anniversary of their organization at their headquarters in South Lowell. A banquet will be served at 8 p. m. Afterward post-prandial exercises will be held with President Frederick G. Humphries as toastmaster. The program is expected to sit down to the turkey supper.

Thomas E. Wilde is chairman of the banquet committee and the other members who have the affair in hand are Samuel J. Nichol, George Emsley, John W. Foster, Harry W. Short and Daniel J. Lynch.

MEETS WILL SETTLE ALL AROUND ACQUATIC

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 25.—The schedule of dual meets in the championship tournament of the Intercollegiate Swimming association was announced today. These meets will serve to settle the titles of the league in all around aquatics and in water polo. The following dates have been set: Dec. 8, Columbia vs. College of the City of New York at New York; Dec. 15, Pennsylvania vs. College of the City of New York at New York; Jan. 13, College of the City of New York vs. Yale at New Haven; Jan. 13, Pennsylvania vs. Princeton at Princeton; Jan. 19, Yale vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Princeton vs. College of the City of New York at New York; Feb. 15, College of the City of New York vs. Yale at New Haven; Feb. 15, Pennsylvania vs. Princeton at Princeton; Feb. 23, College of the City of New York vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Feb. 23, Yale vs. Columbia at Columbia; March 2, Princeton vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; March 9, Princeton vs. Yale at New Haven and Columbia vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; March 16, Yale vs. Princeton at Princeton; March 21, Columbia vs. Yale at New Haven.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

CUTTERS AND MODERN RADIO APPARATUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Construction of three new cutters, equipment of existing cutters with modern radio apparatus and repair and extension of telephone and telegraph lines used in its work were recommended to congress today in the annual report of Capt. E. P. Berthoff, commandant of the coast guard service.

The cutters asked would cost together $1,000,000 and be stationed at Detroit, Honolulu and Beaufort, N. C. Particular emphasis was laid on the need for a cutter at Beaufort, N. C., the report saying at present cutters must go to assist ships in distress off Hatteras, the birthplace of derelicts either from Norfolk or Wilmington, and that a vessel stationed there would prove of invaluable assistance.

In speaking of the existing radio sets, the report says nine of the cutters in service are equipped with obsolete apparatus because of lack of funds, although congress has required all merchant sea-goers to install auxiliary apparatus.

To put the 1500 miles of telephone and cable lines owned by the service in good condition, the report asks for $50,000 and to connect stations in out of the way points with commercial telephone or telegraph lines about $350,000 additional.

Owing to increasing difficulty in securing engineer officers a recommendation is made for the combination by law of the engineer corps and the line of the guard.

During the past year 1216 persons were saved from peril or death by the guard and vessels valued at $10,500,000 assisted. The service spent during the year $3,215,111.

Some minor modifications remain to be fixed but the navy department has insisted upon certain features of construction. The bids are close to the limit. It will be about two years before the first of the ships are delivered to the government.

SOME SILVER PESOS
MANILA, Nov. 23.—The government has sold 7,500,000 silver pesos from the silver certificate fund to the international bank for shipment to Shanghai, where they will be melted into bullion. The approximate profit to the government will be one million pesos.

DUTCH CONSUL GENERAL
THE HAGUE, via London, Nov. 23.—H. A. Van Coenen Torckhana, Dutch consul general at San Francisco, who has been here in conference with the Netherlands government, has been ordered to Washington on a special mission to confer with Secretary of State Lansing. He will sail for the United States next Tuesday on the Holland liner Noordam.

COL. YEALE DEAD
TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 23.—Col. George Washington Yeale, prominent in Kansas affairs for more than half a century, died here last night aged 83. He served 17 years in the state legislature and 14 years in the national house of representatives.

WHY WE GIVE THANKS

On the eve of Thanksgiving it is proper to ask ourselves for what we, American citizens and other residents of this republic, have a right to be thankful for.

The answer to such a question will at once suggest the ineffable blessings of peace as contrasted with the exterminating ravages and horrors of war now obliterating the very semblance of civilization all over Europe.

Here at this time we enjoy peace with freedom such as never existed in any other land, freedom in which each citizen shares in the sovereignty of the people and the power which in other lands is wielded only by supreme rulers.

It is only by contrast with the horrible conditions that prevail in Europe that we can properly estimate the heavenly blessings and the sublime privileges we enjoy in this land of perfect freedom. Here in Lowell we have many nationalities and perhaps 15,000 able-bodied male immigrants who, had they not come here some years ago, would all have been drafted for military service under the various powers engaged in that world conflict. Daily we see them plying their various occupations in our factories; and all are apparently happy except those who mourn parents, sisters or brothers ground beneath the nation-crushing juggernaut of war. On Sundays we see thousands of young men, natives of Poland, going to church, and the thought must have occurred to everybody who looks upon them in the very bloom of manly youth and vigor, that if they had not come here, they would probably all have been buried in the trenches by this time or else have fallen otherwise in the awful struggle in which Russia and the Teutons have swept that ill-fated country again and again in the terrific tidal waves of war.

In this respect the human mind cannot conceive the vast yawning chasm between the peace, the freedom, the prosperity and the happiness we here enjoy and the unspeakable sufferings following in the train of a war in which the highest ingenuity of man has been used for the invention of new engines for the destruction of human life and in which in addition to the most powerful explosives flaming oil and poisonous gases have been used in a manner that one might suppose could be conceived only by the blackest and vilest fiends of the infernal regions.

Why should we give thanks? Oh! it is only the consideration of the conditions prevailing in Europe and elsewhere that can bring us to a proper realization of the unparalleled blessings we enjoy and what devoted homage we owe to this land of freedom and its beloved flag under which every man is free and by virtue of our constitution the equal of every other.

Here in Lowell we have reason to be thankful for the general prosperity enjoyed by all our industries as evidenced by the recent increase in wages and by the steady employment of everybody who wants to work. The high cost of living presses rather heavily upon many families, but it is hoped that the near future will show an improvement in this respect. Such a temporary shadow should not be allowed to darken the glorious serenity of the Thanksgiving that comes to us freighted with so many incomparable blessings.

But in spite of the most favorable conditions, the poor we have always with us; and it will doubtless be a source of pleasure and happiness to those who can afford it, to see that the poor, the dejected and forlorn shall be made partakers in the general joy of this great festival.

In this connection let us carry out the good counsel of His Excellency, Gov. McCall, in his Thanksgiving proclamation when he says:

"Our thanks should first be felt and spoken, not for the things that are material, but for those that minister to the spirit, for the things that make our Commonwealth more beautiful to look upon and better to live in, and that tell for a higher life and a fairer civilization. With our thanks for a system of government founded upon civil and religious liberty let us unite our prayers for that system's preservation. To our gratitude for what has been given us as a people let each one of us add thanks for the good that has come into his own life. Let us not forget that thanks for our blessings are indeed empty unless they are crowned by compassion for the sorrows of others and by the endeavor to make those sorrows lighter not only by our prayers but by our deeds."

NEW PHASES OF THE WAR

The Russian war is hastening toward the Rumanian border with the intention, it is alleged, of trying to stop the progress of the central powers in overrunning Rumania. In all probability his arrival will come too late to be of any advantage to the little country that entered the war on the side of the entente allies.

It is expected that Russia will now abandon the campaign on the eastern front further north and project a movement to drive the Teutons from Rumania. This will be a most difficult undertaking since they get themselves dug in, the task of driving back the Germans which fully entrenched has proven one that the armies of France and England have found almost insuperable. The battles of Mons, the Marne and still later the Somme afford ample evidence of the overwhelming force and artillery power necessary to dislodge a German army from its entrenched positions. Russia has never been able to do it with any degree of success and we doubt whether she can do it in Rumania where the leading generals of Germany have the power of the German army operating for the capture of Bucharest and the conquest of Rumania.

It is therefore quite likely that some of the hardest fighting in the war will take place in Rumania which Germany intends to subjugate even as she has Belgium, while on the other hand, Russia has pledged to exert all her power for the delivery of Rumania as she primarily did for the defense of little Serbia.

From present indications it appears that while the Germans have failed to take Verdun and cannot make any further advance against the allies on the western front, neither can the allies make any material progress against the German trenches except at enormous cost. The Somme drive offers proof of this. Hence the impression now prevails that the results did not justify the expenditure although the drive was but one feature of the general plan of wearing down the powers of Germany.

It is now very generally conceded that while the British blockade has caused Germany a great deal of inconvenience it can never starve her into submission. She is still fighting with effective desperation and there is no prospect of the immediate exhaustion of her powers, which was anticipated and even predicted by the allies some time ago.

There has been, however, many evidences that the Germans want peace and that they have wanted it for over a year; but they want peace on their own terms which the allies will never grant.

On the other hand the allies set out to continue the war until Germany should be completely crushed. That eventually seems to be rather of today than it was a year ago but yet the allies are firm in their determination and will brook no proposal of peace under present conditions. Thus the war goes on and is likely to continue for another year or perhaps even longer before both sides are willing to make a compromise peace. That may be based upon the restoration of the small nationalities overrun by Germany.

GUARDING BANK FUNDS

The Federal Reserve board has sent out a warning to the banks which it controls against purchasing the short term British and French treasury bonds which those governments plan to put upon the market. The reason for this step is, that these bills are not intended for early liquidation but for continuous renewals which would give them permanent extension. The board is justified in taking such action as will prevent the tying up of bank funds intended for use in American business and for taking care of short time commercial paper. In this case it is well that we have the Federal Reserve board to prevent banks from placing their funds in foreign bonds where payment would be postponed indefinitely.

DROP IN WHEAT PRICES

Already the effect of investigation has been shown in the reduction of the price of wheat in the grain pits of Chicago. It was alleged that rumors of peace in Europe caused the rapid decline in the price of wheat but on the contrary the fact was that the wheat gamblers, afraid of government retribution, fled to cover.

It will not be surprising now if unexpected supplies come in to the market and if we hear reports from various sources explaining the situation by offering any other reason than the right one. The speculators have found out that the government is at their heels and they can no longer continue to fix prices and corner the food supply with impunity.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into gummy lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic put this down: Pape's Diapiesin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick as certainly effective. No discomfort how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back. You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

STRICKEN IN THE STREET

Completely Restored to Health By "Fruit-a-tives"

882 St. Valier St., MONTREAL.

"In 1912, I was taken suddenly ill with Acute Stomach Trouble and dropped in the street. I was treated by several physicians for nearly two years, and my weight dropped from 255 pounds to 160 pounds. Then several of my friends advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. I began to improve almost with the first dose, and by using them, I recovered from the distressing Stomach Trouble—and all pain and Constipation were cured. Now I weigh 205 pounds. I cannot praise 'Fruit-a-tives' enough". H. WHITMAN.

now that candidates have stopped their campaigning, maybe the railroad men get a chance to haul a little coal.

The Beverly Times insists that some people's idea of proving a political argument is to offer to bet $5 and then sneak out if the other fellow has the money ready.

An exchange finds that some people seem to think that a last season's automobile is about as useless as any kind of a machine, but the last season's political machine goes to the scrap heap more completely.

The Providence Journal says the lady in her box in the diamond horseshoe, at the Metropolitan, who attracted the attention of the society reporters by wearing a coronet of glistening coal is said to have retired purple with chagrin upon the appearance of a social rival displaying a necklace of potatoes.

Deer Jumped on Auto

The heaviest claim for deer damage ever filed in Berkshire county, was presented at the office of County Treasurer Brewster last week by George W. Grundy of Williamstown, who wants $14.50 paid him for damages he claims a deer inflicted on his automobile when it sprang from the woods and landed on the radiator of the car, which was transporting Williams college students from the Amherst football game home. The deer was killed but the carcass was taken in charge by Game Warden Nichols of North Adams. Mr. Grundy says the accident was unavoidable, and as the county pays farmers damages for deer to crops, he thinks they should reimburse him for the damage to his car. The matter has been referred to the county commissioners.

Irving Bacheller's Wit

Irving Bacheller, the novelist, was on a tramp tour through New England. He discovered a chin-bearded patriarch on a roadside road. "Pine cone," said Mr. Bacheller, tentatively, using a bilious smile with struggling stalks as a means of breaking the conversation ice. "Best in Massachusetts," said the sifter. "How do you plow that field?" asked Mr. Bacheller. "It is so very steep." "Don't plow it," said the sifter. "When the spring thaws come, the rocks rolling down hill tear it up so that we can plant corn." "And how do you plant it?" asked Mr. Bacheller. The sifter said that he didn't plant it, really. He stood in the backyard and shot the seed in with a shotgun. "Is that true?" asked Bacheller. "Geat! Whist! No," said the sifter.

DISEASES OF CHILDREN

I had worms one of the most common of children's diseases—either pinworms or stomach worms. These parasites make their presence felt through deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, heavy and dull eyes, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

For over 60 years Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has been the standard remedy for worms, stomach disorders and constipation both for children and adults.

Dr. Wm. L. Wythe of Houston, Texas, writes: "I want to say that Dr. True's Elixir is certainly a fine medicine. At all dealers, 25c. and 50c. Advise free. Write to me."

Turned Thief in Hospital

Thomas Thornton, 17 years old, ragged and hungry, rang the bell of the Greenpoint hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., and begged for any kind of a job. He was dressed in clean clothes and put to work as an orderly. He had been on the job one hour when Jacob Geisler of 48 Diamond street, Brooklyn, and Thomas Gregory of 555 Greenwich street, Manhattan, were brought in, injured severely in the explosion of the tug Rambler. Thornton was told to undress them. He did so, and then disappeared. The internes thought the sight of the injured men had affected his nerve, but when the patients recovered sufficiently to inquire about their personal effects it was discovered Thornton's nerve was all right. With him had disappeared $53.75 which had been in Geisler's pockets and $34.75 from Gregory's clothes. Thornton had given his address as Highland, N. Y. There the police learned he had a sweetheart in the city of Erie. Detectives arrested him in the railroad station in Poughkeepsie, where he was trying to buy two tickets for Texas. He had persuaded the girl to go away with him, they say. Now he is locked up charged with grand larceny.

Saves Dog by Circus Feat

The agile toes of Maurice, of the dancing team of Maurice and Walton, proved their strength as well as their ability to twinkle the other night when the dancer hung head downward in a New York sewer and rescued Chin Chin, the prize winning Pekingese pup owned by the dancers. When the car taking the couple to the Century theatre drew near the curb in 62d street, Chin Chin, who has a high opinion of his own importance, tried to get out first. He sprang toward the sidewalk, but missed it and splashed into a big puddle formed by the storm. Sniffing with disgust he started to paddle for shore, but just then a street cleaner moved a dam of newspaper and rubbish, which held back the water, and Chin Chin was swept down a stream as swiftly racing as King Kong and as wide as the Mississippi to him. Then he went over the falls down into a sewer. Maurice went to the rescue. Lifting off the manhole cover he fished for the pup with a broom, but only managed to tickle the swimming animal. Desperate with the cries of Miss Walton ringing in his ears, Maurice hooked his toes on the edge of the hole and stretched downward. Fortunately his toes held, he grasped the pup, and was hauled to the surface again, to be sprinkled generously with sewer water by the grateful folk of Chin Chin.

Aftermath

Where are the days that I loved to call summer?
Where are the maidens I met on the beach?
Tell me, I pray, where's the one I called "summer"?
Where is the dame I considered a "peach"?
Where's the canoe I so lazily paddled?
And the old motorboat reeking with oil?
Where is the thoroughbred, well-curbed and saddled?
Where my vacation days so free from toil?
Where are the fellows I fought so at tennis?
And those near-golfers I taught how to play?
Where is my caddy I used to call Dennis?
Where are lost golf balls still lurking today?
Where are the hammocks I swung so gaily?
And those fair damsels I held by my side?
Tell me now where are the motor trips daily
With a sweet creature I'd hoped for my bride?
Tell me, oh, where are the "broilers" so pretty?
Where is the ocean and where is the splash?
Where now are Rosie and Sadie and Betty?
Where is the summer and where is my cash?

That no one is worrying about a possible shortage of turkeys.
That cartridges are dangerous things for children to play with.
That it is also thanksgiving for the passing of infantile paralysis.
That parents should warn their children about skating on thin ice.
That Lieut. Martin Maher is anxiously awaiting the call to the outside.
That the baldheaded man is sometimes a pretty good fellow at that.
That a bug in a rug is a sign the rug ought to be out on the clothesline.
That the person who took but one turkey out of a carload was no hog.
That we wish all of the newlyweds a bright, happy and prosperous future.
That some people are wondering what they have got to be thankful for.
That the fellow who took the one turkey couldn't have had many friends.
That it will not be long before we are skating on the good old Merrimack.
That the high prices have made even the goldfish shudder with apprehension.
That the advanced woman has not yet taken to cigars. Why the reservation?
That "Wow! Who'd have thought it?" is an everyday phrase. Isn't it awful, Mabel?
That Billy Sunday must be up against an awfully funny collection of people.
That residents of Woodward avenue never expect their long-petitioned-for curbing.
That dancing in which toe feet are not moved is not done in polite society any more.
That there is no quicker way to spoil a young man than to present him an automobile.
That a longing for the old home is one of the things a fellow can't shake very readily.
That we don't know what the chipmunk is doing just now and we don't give a darn.
That a clock on a steeple which persists in lying about the time is an immoral influence.
That the readers of some modern magazines would hesitate if asked to ride in a golf cart.

AUTOISTS ENJOYING A PROLONGED SEASON

FINE WEATHER HAS PERMITTED THE USE OF CARS INSTEAD OF STORING THEM

George R. Dana, of the Cadillac agency, reports the arrival yesterday of two new Cadillac models in special coloring. One is maroon, and the other a rich gray. Both are of the late models and unusually elegant. These cars, now at the Cadillac Sales and Service on East Merrimack street, are both sold and to be delivered shortly. Nevertheless more will be received soon, so all are invited to call and see these cars products of the automobile industry while the opportunity is at hand.

As usual the V. A. French auto and taxi service are abreast of the times as shown by their display on this page regarding an automobile ride for Thanksgiving Day. This is a most appropriate way to spend a part of the holiday, when it may be done in open or closed cars as preferred.

At this particular season of the year the motorists find difficulty in starting their motors in the cold mornings. The Pitts Auto Supply is trying to offset this almost universal trouble for the auto driver by offering for sale a selection of mechanical and electric starters. This enables one to start their machine from the seat, and avoid the unpleasantness of cranking. In keeping with the business at this popular supply house the assortment of starters is not lacking in any way. The particular fancy of each person may be satisfied. Of course the Pitts Service car is at the command of any distressed auto. Many other season's needs are on display in great variety at this store on Hurd street.

Unusual used car values are in evidence as shown by the display on this page by George R. Dana. Cars purchased now have not seen the strained use of winter. Prices on used cars may soon advance with the present trend of new car prices, so it is advisable to make early investigation when a value is presented.

The Lowell Motor Mart reports the following sales for the past week: Miss Louise G. Caisse, Chandler touring car; Arthur G. Dubois, Chandler touring car; Frederick Eotim, Chandler touring car; Mrs. A. Grace Tobin, Ford touring car; P. H. Gunther, Ford touring car.

Mr. Rochette, proprietor, says that there has been added interest in the Chandler car recently, due to the advance in prices which is to take place on Dec. 1st. Many have taken advantage of the present figures. The cars carried by this automobile agency are now being displayed under much more favorable conditions at the Lowell Motor Mart annex, 453 Merrimack street.

Where formerly men argued that horse delivery was adequate to take care of their requirements, they now concede that motor delivery will not only make them grow but will actually make them greedy. They see that while horse delivery restricts their operations to a limited zone, motor delivery, by widening the area, enables them to appeal to a greater circle of people and thus allows a choice of customers.

Auto trucks are becoming more and more each month to be the real thing in conjunction with business of all natures. Especially with the months approaching, they will be a necessity. So states George W. Morrison of the Auburn Motor Car Co. on Thorndike street. He is carrying the Republic Dispatch truck, about which he mentioned some favorable facts, including: it is a truck with a maximum of 1500 lbs., which is 500 more than any other truck at the same price; it is equipped with express body, canopy top, slide curtains, glass front, electric lights, horn, generator and battery; it is a truck and not an ordinary light car; solid or pneumatic tires are optional; the motor is simple without sacrificing any desirable features; and extreme fuel economy is obtained by means of a peculiar arrangement of intake manifold. Space will not permit enumeration of facts which give credit for the purpose. The heat is obtained by first running the engine on gasoline. This requires a special form of carburetor and, although there are several on the market, none of them seem to have given general satisfaction.

Motoring Department, The Sun—A chain-drive car, and occasionally one of the chains comes off. The sprockets are badly worn, but apparently not enough to account for it. How can I prevent this? G. S. K. Ans. Evidently the chains are stretching because of wear and need tightening. You will find distance rods running from rear axle to frame. Each carries a turn-buckle, which must be turned in such a way as to lengthen the rod. Turn each one the same distance. This will remove the slack from the chain and help to prevent trouble.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Why is kerosene so much cheaper than gasoline, and is used in farm engines. Why is it not used in an automobile engine. I. L. B. Ans. In order to evaporate kerosene ating facts which may be perceived upon investigation.

In connection with the auto renting business which the Auburn Motor Car Co. is operating, at present it is making a special rate for parties of six to go direct to the Billy Sunday tabernacle in Boston. Parties traveling in this way may go and return by auto, thus avoiding the rush of train and trolley and crowds, and yet be having a private party at a cost of nearly the same as making the trip in some other way. The proprietor, Geo. W. Morrison will drive the car himself. A display on this page gives the special rate.

During the ideal weather for the past few days, no doubt many motorists have prepared themselves and their cars to visit the folks at home for a Thanksgiving dinner and reunion. The roads are in good condition in most sections of the surrounding country. The many modern conveniences for traveling by auto make it most comfortable for either long or short trips.

"Service" in the motor car world is fast becoming the most potent word in the industry. There is nothing more important. It is the right arm of the business. Service is demanded by every motor car owner, no matter what make or car he uses. Good service is not necessarily free service, neither does it mean express charges and telephone tolls. It does mean, however, reasonable charges, a square deal and as quick service as it is reasonably possible to deliver. Most dealers assume this responsibility now and deliver the kind of service that is not only wanted, but is demanded by the motoring public.

A meeting at the Harrisonia hotel last Monday proved that the auto show plans are well under way for this event to be held in this city in January by the local dealers on a co-operative basis. The affair will be staged at either the Kasino or the state armory, and no doubt will be a big boom to the trade in Lowell.

AUTOMOBILE QUESTION BOX

NOTE—In these columns every Wednesday we will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to submit questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications: Automobile Editor, Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must bear the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a chain-drive car, and occasionally one of the chains comes off. The sprockets are badly worn, but apparently not enough to account for it. How can I prevent this? G. S. K. Ans. Evidently the chains are stretching because of wear and need tightening. You will find distance rods running from rear axle to frame. Each carries a turn-buckle, which must be turned in such a way as to lengthen the rod. Turn each one the same distance. This will remove the slack from the chain and help to prevent trouble.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Why is kerosene so much cheaper than gasoline, and is used in farm engines. Why is it not used in an automobile engine. I. L. B. Ans. In order to evaporate kerosene a special form of carburetor is necessary which gives enough heat for the purpose. The heat is obtained by first running the engine on gasoline. This requires a special form of carburetor and, although there are several on the market, none of them seem to have given general satisfaction.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I had my engine refused to run, and I had to be towed to the garage. The distributor is clean and the brushes in good condition. Please tell me where you think the trouble may be and if it is anything I can myself. J. K. Ans. Although not so stated we assume you have a high tension magneto of the usual type. Insert safety spark gap, as that sometimes short-circuits the magneto. If that is all right the trouble is in the windings of the armature. These can only be rewound by an expert using the proper tools. You had better ship the magneto back to the manufacturers and have it properly overhauled.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Will you kindly publish in your valuable column a formula for obtaining the R. P. M. of a motor, when the miles per hour and final reductions are known. Also the miles per hour when the R. P. M. and final reductions are known. R. A. J. Ans. Multiply diameter of tire by 3.1416 and reduce to feet. This gives circumference of wheel. Reduce miles per hour to feet per minute. Divide feet per minute by circumference of wheel, which gives R. P. M. of rear wheel. Multiply this by reduction at differential. This will give R. P. M. of motor if gears are in direct drive. To determine miles per hour, divide R. P. M. by reduction at differential and multiply by circumference of rear wheel. This gives number of feet travelled in one minute. Multiply by 60 to get feet in one hour and divide by 5280 to get miles per hour.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I find my steering is developing a few inches of lost motion, and it seems to be growing larger. Is this anything serious? If it shows wear in the steering gear, what is the best way to take it up? A. M. R. Ans. Any looseness developing in the steering gear should be attended to at once, as your life depends upon the steering gear being in proper condition. Loosen a lock nut, a top of steering gear and screw down on adjustment until it binds. Fasten locking nut. Then see if other connections are working loose and tighten them. Make sure that all nuts and cotter pins are properly secured.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a Standard Dayton car, 1910 model. Would like to know how to connect it up so as to start on battery, and after started to run on magneto. I have a Splitdorf four-point switch No. 71, points marked 1C, MA, M2, and B Splitdorf coil marked 1, D, S, magneto model Hava had everything tested out and found to be O. K., but cannot get it connected up right. Would like an early reply, which will be greatly appreciated. G. E. H. Ans. Connect "D" of coil distributor on magneto, 3 or coil, to 3 on magneto, 8 on coil to 1C on switch. Connect MA of switch to A (armature) of magneto, M2 of switch to 2 on magneto, connect B of switch to either end of battery and connect other end of battery to 1C, making two wires on this terminal. This will enable you to start on battery and run on magneto.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Please answer the following questions about tires. Is it really necessary to carry a tire sleeve? Isn't a blowout patch sufficient to protect the tube? It covers the weak spot completely, so why use a tire sleeve? A. M. T. Ans. The sleeve should always be used whenever the blowout patch is necessary. It keeps dirt from working through the cut in the shoe and prevents the cut from spreading. There is a terrific strain at each end of the cut, and the sleeve, if properly applied, takes the strain off. Therefore, would suggest that you carry a sleeve and use it whenever the blowout patch is used.

Motoring Department, The Sun—What is the best way to locate a squeak? I have a disagreeable creaking around the front of my car, but am unable to locate it. I have oiled the springs thoroughly, but it still keeps up. Any suggestions would be appreciated. F. L. T. Ans. Inspect oil around every possible rubbing place, rearward and forward. If this fails use an oil gun and go over the same parts, putting more force into the work. This will probably locate it. If not, the trouble is in the springs, and they must be thoroughly oiled. The spring clips frequently give trouble. Remove them, jack up frame, and put graphite grease between the leaves, prying them apart with a screwdriver or cold chisel. Grease the clips, and replace. If squeak persists it is where leaves are bolted together, which means that spring should be removed, taken apart, and each leaf thoroughly greased.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a 1912 Studebaker car, four-cylinder, which runs on a fifteen-mile limit, but going beyond that limit it starts to chuck and pound. By immediately turning off gas it stops. The carburetor has no needle valve or mixing chamber. Cylinders four inches in bore. The inlet manifold pipe is one and one-fourth inches in diameter. Would you prefer a Zenith or Master carburetor. H. W. Ans. An engine which has run four years will probably have developed piston-rings, which cannot be removed except by replacing worn pistons by larger ones. However, it may be a carbon knock or loose connecting rod either at wrist pin or crankshaft. Have carbon burned out and remove crank case, to inspect connecting rods. It all means install an up-to-date carburetor.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a Standard Dayton car, 1910 model. Would like to know how to connect it up so as to start on battery, and after started to run on magneto. I have a Splitdorf four-point switch No. 71, points marked 1C, MA, M2, and B Splitdorf coil marked 1, D, S, magneto model Hava had everything tested out and found to be O. K., but cannot get it connected up right. Would like an early reply, which will be greatly appreciated. G. E. H. Ans. Connect "D" of coil distributor on magneto, 3 or coil, to 3 on magneto, 8 on coil to 1C on switch. Connect MA of switch to A (armature) of magneto, M2 of switch to 2 on magneto, connect B of switch to either end of battery and connect other end of battery to 1C, making two wires on this terminal. This will enable you to start on battery and run on magneto.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Please answer the following questions about tires. Is it really necessary to carry a tire sleeve? Isn't a blowout patch sufficient to protect the tube? It covers the weak spot completely, so why use a tire sleeve? A. M. T. Ans. The sleeve should always be used whenever the blowout patch is necessary. It keeps dirt from working through the cut in the shoe and prevents the cut from spreading. There is a terrific strain at each end of the cut, and the sleeve, if properly applied, takes the strain off. Therefore, would suggest that you carry a sleeve and use it whenever the blowout patch is used.

CARE OF CAR IN WINTER
"With the advent of efficient starting devices and such comforts as convertible bodies, tonneau heaters, etc.," says H. H. Drew, service manager of the Nordyke & Marmion Co., "the all-year-round use of the high-grade motor car has become an almost universal practice. At this season a few suggestions may be in order as to the easiest and best methods of assuring the most pleasant and effective winter operation."

"As the quality of the gasoline supplied on the open market is continually decreasing, it is becoming more and more important to obtain the desired warm-weather operating conditions in the motor at all times. The automobile motor, equally as sensitive to the cold as the human organism, should have extra covering in cold weather. An ideal warm-weather operation can be secured by having the power plant and the surrounding air under the hood kept warm, as in summer. Fortunately this is comparatively easy to accomplish, since the motor itself is constantly generating heat. It is well to use a radiator cover with an adjustable opening so as to prevent excess cooling in extreme weather. It also well to see that the carburetor has a hot-air connection to the intake manifold so that the cold air is pre-heated when going into the carburetor. The newer cars are also provided with an air-choking device which gives an over-rich carburetor mixture and aid in starting and rapidly warming up the motor.

"With regard to the quality of gasoline: In some localities the gasoline commonly offered for distribution is of poorer quality than in others, but it is now almost always possible to obtain the high-test gasoline, which generally speaking, will prove more efficient in cold weather than a low test. In this connection bear in mind, however, that high-test gasoline does not necessarily mean better gasoline. In some cases a very light grade of fluid known as "Flying Head Gasoline" is used, which has such a low boiling point that it cannot be handled in an ordinary carburetor and it should be avoided.

ADVENT OF THE AUTO

Social as Well as Business Advantages — Brings Rural Relations Closer

The inhabitants of the cities are well acquainted with the changed conditions as the result of the advent of the automobile. They realize its social advantages as well as its business and pleasure achievements, but, as a whole, they do not appreciate the transformation it has brought about in rural communities, especially in relation to the women on the farms. J. J. Cole, president of the Cole Motor Car company, of Indianapolis, who has made a careful study of farm-owned cars, in an informal talk recently, referred to the motor car as the most important factor in making life worth living, from a pleasure standpoint, for the isolated country people.

"The general use of the automobile has given the farmer practically all the advantages of city life without taking him away from his life-long occupation," declared Mr. Cole. "It was but a few years ago that the farmer, if he cared to enjoy city school privileges for his children, and the other attractions of city life, had to retire from farming, move to town and take up some other occupation, for which he was usually untrained. All of which, generally meant for him a real financial loss. Today, however, the automobile has brought him to the very doors of the city and the expenditure for the car is trivial compared with the monetary loss which would be sustained if he were forced to give up farming entirely and move to town. The motor car has remade the farmer's wife and daughter. Intercommunication with neighbors and townspeople, by means of the automobile, has given them a new lease on life. No longer do they spend all their time in the seclusion of their homes. In the evenings there are friends to visit, meetings of women's clubs to attend, social affairs in the public schools and community halls and, if nothing more interesting presents itself, there is always a delightful and restful ride over eight or ten miles of country roads.

"In former years, the horse and carriage, or horse and wagon, was the only means of conveyance for the farmer and his family. If the wife wanted to go to town in the afternoon the horses were generally working in the fields. At night, a trip of six or seven miles each way was impractical because, after the chores were done, it was too late for starting on a faint of that nature with such slow moving vehicles. Now we find the automobile available during the day for the women folks, while the men are at their work, and at the service of the whole family in the evening.

"All of this means that on the farm, where a motor car is owned, the women of the family are no longer drudging their life away. They are mingling with friends in and out of town and they are in a position to learn how to manage their affairs better, how to get things done more easily and in less time. In fact, the automobile is transforming them into modern women in every sense of the word.

HELPFUL HINTS
Too much emphasis cannot be placed on lubrication. More troubles can be traced to lack of lubrication than to any other cause. Study your lubrication chart and follow it carefully.

The fumes from a storage battery on charge are inflammable, and it is by no means safe to bring a naked flame near a cell that is "gassing" freely. Battery repair shops and charging stations usually are careful in this respect, knowing by practical experience that the gas can be ignited.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 6400 Marcellus Avenue, Manhattan, N. Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

MODERATE IRREGULARITY IN EARLY DEALINGS

EFFECT OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD'S ADMONITION APPARENT AGAIN TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Wall Street, 10.30 a. m.—Further moderate irregularity attended today's early dealings, declines far exceeding advances. Trading was of the same cautious character as that of the preceding session, professional operators, however, renewing or adding to their commitments for the short account. Copper, equipments, motors and other shares of less specific description were lower by fractions to a point, with two points for Ohio Copper in general hardened later on the stronger tone of rails, the movement in that quarter being led by Reading, Union Pacific and Rock Island.

The better tendency in rails embraced many other issues of that division, notably Baltimore & Ohio, Missouri Pacific and Wash. Issues, Denver & Rio Grande pfd., Ontario & Western and Southern railway. U. S. Steel threw off the pressure of the previous day, rising more than a point with increased firmness in copper. Anaconda featuring that group. Shipping shares made moderate advances, while such specialties as Texas Co., Montana Power and Pittsburgh showed extreme gains of 4 to 5 points.

Exchanges and Balances

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Exchanges, $733,844,036; balances, $35,056,503.

Cotton Futures

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Cotton futures opened steady, December, 22.20; January, 20.35; March, 20.85; May, 20.75; July, 20.78; October, 18.57.

Boston Market

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Returning strength moved the price of copper shares to slightly higher levels in the first hours of trading today. Zinc stocks were especially advanced.

CHEMUNG SUNK WITH OLD GLORY FLYING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Official report on the destruction of the American submarine Chemung by a German submarine was received by the state department late yesterday from the American consul at Valencia, Spain. He said all on board had been landed safely.

The case appears to be similar to the destruction of the American ship William P. Frye and the Lelanwa, both carrying contraband, damages for which are to be awarded by diplomatic negotiation. As there was no loss of life, nor apparent violation of Germany's pledges, the case is not regarded as alarming.

In the long-argued case of the Frye, Germany agreed that an American ship carrying contraband and sunk because a submarine could not get her into port, should be paid for in full. The amount of damages is thought to be the only subject for negotiations in the present case.

FLYING STARS AND STRIPES

PARIS, Nov. 28.—(Censored)—A Madrid dispatch by wireless announces the arrival at Valencia of the crew of the American submarine Chemung, torpedoed in the Bay of Biscay by a German submarine. The commander of the vessel, not allowing them to take their money and papers, the submarine towed the lifeboats in which the crew were placed to within five miles of the coast, where it abandoned them.

The Chemung went down with the stars and stripes floating at her mast.

THEREKS LIKED FINE GARMENTS

Much Valuable Clothing Was Revealed by Inventory Yesterday

Property of Alleged Bank Defaulter and His Wife Examined

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The inventory of the personal effects of Edward Therek, the alleged National Shawmut bank defaulter, and of his wife, Charlotte, who is charged with aiding and abetting her husband, was made in the office of United States Marshal Mitchell yesterday afternoon at the federal building.

In addition to valuable clothing there was tucked away in the suit case used by Therek a novel by Richard W. Chambers entitled "The Fighting Chance." One of the pages was turned down because the story appealed to the reader. It was the "confession" in which the hero wanted to be the best in his country.

Prior to the opening of the trunks Attorney H. P. Callahan protested on the ground that they had been examined in Florida and that it would serve any good purpose to repeat the operation. He also claimed that the contents were the personal property of the defendants.

The marshal had previously conferred with Daniel A. Shea of the United States attorney's office and informed Mr. Callahan that the trunks had been legally turned over to him by the deputy marshal from Florida and that he was welcome to witness the inventory required by law.

The trunks revealed a wealth of fine clothing in which women's apparel predominated, worth, it is estimated, not less than $1500. About all the articles bore the names of New York and Washington stores, but some of Mrs. Therek's were stamped with the letter C, from which the observers tried in vain to trace her name before she was married.

Therek's Therek has a taste for dainty frocks, for coats and trimmings was shown by the half-dozen gowns of pink, purple and green in the wardrobe trunk, and there were two costly suits of clothing, the property of Therek, with four pairs of shoes of the latest make, expensive dainty hats that made the feminine eyes twinkle.

Coupled with the clothing is the automobile, which cost $1000, in which the Thereks made their escape and is en route to this city from the south, watches and other articles of jewelry held by the federal authorities at Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., together with odds and ends, and an estimate of an expenditure of $5000 is conservative.

Every article in the trunks and suit cases was of the finest material. Some of the gowns cost at least $200 and the evening coat must have cost close to $500.

After the examination the trunk was repacked and locked and the keys handed to Marshal Mitchell.

Mrs. Therek was bailed Monday night. Her sureties were reduced to $3000 through the efforts of her attorney. She is stopping with friends, but her attorney would not reveal where. Mr. Callahan said last evening that he had little hope of securing bail for Therek as the government sticks to $20,000 as the lowest.

While the deputy marshals were examining the clothing, Frederick P. Schmidt, special agent of the department of justice, examined the cards and tags on the goods to get a clue to the identity of the defendants. If he succeeded he kept the secret to himself.

Most of the goods were new and some bore the tags of firms from which they were bought. The wardrobe trunk bore a shipping tag, Fred Thierbach, Miami, Fla., and was valued at $2000, according to the tag pasted on it when it was shipped from Washington to Miami. Nothing suggesting loot was found.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MASS MEETING IN BOSTON

Deportation by the Germans Is Denounced as Slavery

Storey and Matthews Demand Drastic Action By Nation

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—At a great mass meeting in Tremont Temple last evening to protest against the deportation of Belgians by Germany, Hon. Moore Storey caused a tremendous outburst of applause when he said:

"Our consciences have been stifled and our mouths closed too long. It is time for us to speak out and dare to tell the truth. Let us say to the Belgians, to the Germans, to the world—we are not neutral! We cannot longer be neutral! We ought not to be neutral!"

"We owe it to ourselves, and we owe it to Germany to say that the time has come for us to take our stand on the side of right and throw our influence against the crimes which are now being committed by Germany against civilization."

All of the speakers called on the United States to act to protest against the deportation, and Moore Storey went even a step farther. He said: "I should be glad to see the president of the United States notify the German emperor that unless this deportation ceases the government of the United States will break off diplomatic relations with Germany."

Storey said that he would like to have Germany notified that these practices cut her off from intercourse with other civilized nations and that unless they are stopped we will have nothing more to do with slavery.

Slavery Says Matthews

"Deportation is the word used by the apologists of German methods in this country," said Hon. Nathan Matthews, "but they know that the thing itself is nothing more nor less than slavery."

"This conduct of the temporary conquerors of Belgium, more than any of their misdeeds in the past two years has aroused the indignation and resentment of mankind of the Jews only 8000 able-bodied men were carried into captivity by Nebuchadnezzar; but M. Vandervelde, the Belgian minister of munitions, tells us that more than 300,000 Belgians have already been deported, including men of every age and condition, who are gathered up, herded and numbered like cattle, and taken as captives into other provinces in northern France and Germany, where they are forced to make fortifications, or to replace in other forms of labor men who can be released for military work."

HE STOLE COAL TO COOK MOTHER'S BREAKFAST

HAVERHILL, Nov. 28.—Higher prices for coal have already affected the poor of this city and greater vigilance is being kept on cars of coal in the railroad yards.

William Barnett, aged 15, was arrested this morning for taking three shovelfuls of coal from a consignment in the Haverhill street yards owned by Taylor & Co.

In court, the boy told Judge Winn that his mother had had nothing to start the breakfast fire with when they got up at 5:20 and he had gone out to find stray wood or coal. The case was dismissed, the judge not wanting to give the boy a record.

Later in the day David Kasades was arrested by Patrolman Adams, who was in plain clothes, and when Mrs. Louisa Poland, who thought Adams was taking the coal away from the boy for his own use, interfered, she was arrested also, in the confusion Kasades escaped, but was caught later.

Frank Poirier and Arthur Tero were also arrested and charged with the larceny of several baskets of coal.

THE WOMAN'S ALLIANCE HEARD TWO SPEAKERS

The Lowell branch, Women's Alliance, heard two interesting speakers yesterday afternoon in the series of historic sketches of some of the churches of the denomination. Mrs. A. R. Hunsley spoke on the First Unitarian church of Hallowell, over which Rev. Mr. Hunsley was pastor for several years. Miss Mary Howland Hallowell sketched the history of All Souls' church, New York city, which was founded in 1819.

EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Nov. 28.—Considerable damage has been caused by an earthquake in middle Japan. Many houses were destroyed in Kyoto, Osaka and Kyoto. The railway station at Kyoto was damaged and several pedestrians were hurt by falling walls and roofs in that town and in Kobe.

WILSON WILL HELP BELGIANS

New Representations to Be Made to German Government

The Administration is Seriously Exercised Over the Matter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—New representations are about to be made to the German government by the United States concerning the deportation of Belgians for labor in Germany.

What form they shall take has not been determined, but it became known last night that the administration is seriously exercised over the matter and is preparing for its next step with great deliberation, hoping to make it effective without straining the relations between the two countries.

American Charge Grew at Berlin recently took up this question informally with the German foreign office and at the state department's direction said that a most unfavorable impression was being created in neutral countries, particularly the United States.

First Effort Failed

His effort was unavailing, however. The foreign office, in a note now on its way to Washington, replied that deportation of the Belgians was a military necessity and was being carried on in accordance with international law governing the treatment of populations in conquered territory.

The charge's preliminary report, the latest appeal for aid from the Belgian minister and other information in the hands of the state department, were discussed at yesterday's cabinet meeting, and Sec. Lansing remained with the president for nearly half an hour after the other members left.

Amherst, Mass., here for final conferences before returning to Berlin, and Col. E. M. House also talked over the plight of the Belgians during visits to the White House and the state department.

THE CORONATION OF EMPEROR CHARLES

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 28.—A Budapest dispatch to the Cologne-Gazette says the Hungarian opposition is working hard to prevent Premier Tisza from assisting the Hungarian emperor at the coronation of Emperor Charles. The group of the opposition's campaign is that Count Tisza is a Protestant. Efforts were made to influence the cardinal but he declared the official in the kingdom could not be pushed into the background at the coronation.

CAMERA CLUB FORMED

A new Camera club was organized last evening at the Y.M.C.A. The following officers were elected: President, P. R. Robinson; vice president, Will Rounis; secretary, R. L. Farbus; treasurer, Fred Franko. Necessary sub-committees were named from the other members already elected among whom are Arthur Harlow, E. J. Moore, R. R. Gumb, Edward Pooley, C. L. Vanhorn and J. McLeod. New members are invited to join at once by registering with R. R. Gumb at the Y.M.C.A. office.

HEALTH.

Taunton, Mass.—"The Favorite Prescription has done wonders for me and for my family. I seemed to be going into a decline. My friends were terribly worried about me and my sister insisted on my taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was miraculous in its results and I have been an unusually healthy woman ever since."

"I cannot say enough in praise of this medicine and am always glad to recommend it."—Mrs. LILLIAN E. MACADAM, 20 Smith St., Taunton, Mass.

A pretty face is the result of a healthy physical condition. "Beauty is but skin deep," yet it greatly depends on a clear complexion, free from wrinkles and hollow cheeks.

Health always brings wealth of beauty. A healthy state of the system comes with Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine prepared for woman's ailments—it cures those derangements and weaknesses which make woman's life miserable.

It is prepared from nature's roots and herbs and does not contain a particle of alcohol or any narcotic. It's not a secret prescription for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper.

Women are earnestly advised to take it for irregular or painful periods, backache, headache, displacement, catarrhal condition, hot flashes, sallow complexion and nervousness.

Write Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for free 136-page book on women's diseases or send 10c for large trial package of "Favorite Prescription" tablets. The sluggish liver can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Biliousness, coated tongue, bad breath, are all cleared up and banished by the use of these tiny sugar-coated granules.

ATTY. GENERAL PROBES HIGH COST OF LIVING

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, Nov. 28.—Atty. Gen. Henry C. Atwell, who announced about two weeks ago that he would begin an inquiry into the high cost of living, is not quite ready to discuss the case as yet, although, in an interview today, he declared that he might have the desired evidence. He stated, however, that he is not quite ready to take the public into his confidence, and intimated that his position as a public law officer forbids him from making his findings known.

Thousands of persons all over the state are eagerly awaiting the results of the investigation, this being evidenced by the fact that telephone calls are received every day at the state house asking for information as to its progress and these come from nearly every section of the commonwealth.

When Mr. Atwell announced that he would make this investigation, it aroused great interest because of his well known success in investigation of other commercial crimes in the past, with the result that many citizens who are suffering from the exorbitant prices of the present day at once rallied to his side and would co-operate with him if it were possible.

Mr. Atwell is convinced, however, that outside assistance would result in destroying the detective value of his bureau. He has marshalled all the law on the subject, and all that remains to be done now, it is claimed, is to determine the facts and select the statute under which to proceed. He is firm in his position, however, that all persons found violating any of the laws in regard to high prices of foodstuffs or other necessities of life will be brought to terms before the inquiry is finished.

Regardless of all difficulties, Mr. Atwell declares that he will go through to the finish with the inquiry and that when all the information is at hand he will take whatever steps may be necessary to prosecute all those believed to be guilty of advancing prices in the face of what threatens to be a short crop.

The attorney general's inquiry embraces several things besides food, and the high cost of coal will be carefully investigated before he has finished his work.

GERMANY EXACTS LAST DROP FROM BELGIUM

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The German authorities have issued a decree imposing further payment of 10,000,000 francs a month on Belgium, according to a Havre despatch from Havre. This is additional to the existing levy of 450,000,000 francs. The despatch says that the provincial councils have been convened for Dec. 2 in order to approve the new imposition.

Good time, A.O.H. hall, tonight.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait, give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated, waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children need to be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

THIS IS TURKEY DAY

TURKEY	25c Lb.
GEESE	22c Lb.
FOWL	20c Lb.

Sensational stories about the high price of Turkeys this year are not based on facts. A large shipment of the very choicest turkeys will arrive at the Union Market today by express. These birds were bought at the last minute, and the prices compare very favorably with last year's. No better looking or finer eating turkeys can be bought. The prices will be from 25c for a good eating turkey to 30c for the very best in the market. No higher price.

CONTRACTORS ASK FOR MORE LIGHT ON HIGH SCHOOL CONTRACTS

Already several Lowell contractors and builders have called at the city hall and buildings department at city hall to inquire about the terms of the contracts for the new high school. By vote of the municipal council the bidding is confined to Lowell men and the department is calling for bids, to be figured on seven separate contracts, viz:

Contract for excavation and foundation.
Contract for brick and structural work.
Contract for metal furring and lathing.
Contract for plastering.
Contract for carpenter work.
Contract for painting.
Contract for plumbing, gas piping and vacuum cleaning.

Bids have not yet been called for on the heating and ventilating or on the electrical work, but the plans and specifications are expected from the Kilmhall company of Boston within a week. These plans will include those for a possible power plant, which may be accepted or rejected later by the municipal council.

The plans and specifications for the new high school make up a bulky document. There are over 200 pages, including the general contract, the terms of the separate agreement contracts, etc.

There are also 35 large blue prints regarding the inspection of those who may be interested. There are eight sheets for plumbing alone; 15 on the plans and power plant and 12 on steel construction. Representatives of local firms were looking over the specifications and the blue prints this morning and keen competition is expected in some departments of the work.

WOMAN CLAIMS BOY RUN OVER FORTUNE IN CANADA LEGS OFF; IS DEAD

Last Saturday morning Mayor O'Donnell received a letter from Dr. S. Bolduc of St. Michael, Bellechasse county, province of Quebec, inquiring about the children of one F. H. Blouin, who died in Hotel Dieu hospital, Quebec city, last spring. This man made a will of which Dr. Bolduc says he is executor and left about $8000 to his children who were said to be in Lowell. The doctor wished to find out the whereabouts of the children and their mother.

The letter was published in the papers of Saturday. Yesterday an elderly woman called to the mayor's office and put in a claim to the fortune. She represented herself as Mrs. Victoria Blouin (nee Parent) and said that she was married to Francis Xavier Blouin of Berthier, Canada, about 40 years ago. The marriage was solemnized in the parish of St. Valiere, which is next to that of Berthier.

Thirty years ago, she said, she left him. There were six children, all of whom are now scattered, but one son lives in Lowell. She says she is sure that she is the widow of the man referred to as he had a cousin named Dr. Bolduc. Mrs. Blouin said she works for a living as a washer-woman, and she requested the mayor to get in touch with Dr. Bolduc and state her claim to the $8000 left by F. H. Blouin. Mayor O'Donnell has written and mentioned the statement as given to him by Mrs. Victoria Blouin.

THE BRITISH GRAND FLEET HAS NEW COMMANDER

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Rear Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, commander of the British fleet, was today appointed first sea lord of the admiralty, being succeeded in command of the grand fleet by Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, who commanded the British battle cruiser squadron in the Jutland naval battle.

Admiral Sir Henry R. Jackson, the present first sea lord, has been appointed president of the royal naval college at Greenwich.

The announcement of the change in command of the British grand fleet was made this afternoon in the house of commons by A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty. Mr. Balfour said there would be consequential changes also in the board of admiralty.

The decision involving the appointments of Admirals Jellicoe, Beatty and Jackson was taken some time ago, Mr. Balfour said, but for military reasons the announcement was delayed.

In being appointed first sea lord, Admiral Jellicoe succeeds Admiral Sir Henry Draxfordine Jackson, who had held that post since May, 1915, when he took the place vacated by Lord Fisher.

ARTILLERY AND FRENCH ACTIVITY ON FRANCO-BELGIAN FRONT

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Artillery and trench activity on parts of the Franco-Belgian front is announced in today's official statement on military operations, as follows:

"There was intermittent enemy shelling in the neighborhood of Guedecourt and south of Arras. Considerable trench mortar activity developed in the Manuissart and Neuve Chapelle areas. Otherwise nothing of importance occurred."

GERMANS INTRODUCE NEW SCHEME TO SPARE POTATOES

BERLIN, Nov. 29, via London, Nov. 29.—Owing to the irregular harvest this year which with a large increase in grain over last year, showed a decided falling off in the potato crop, it has been decided to introduce a new scheme of potato rationing. On Jan. 1, the urban population will be placed on a daily allowance of 1/2 of a pound instead of one pound. The agricultural population will have an allowance of one pound daily during January and February and thereafter a pound and a half. The potatoes thus saved will be devoted to placing those performing hard labor on a ration of two pounds daily.

The price of sugar, it was announced, probably will be raised as an incentive to greater production next year. Measures will be adopted to give farmers planting sugar beets increased supplies of the necessary nitrogenous fertilizer.

ASKS GOD'S HELP TO PROTECT US AGAINST DEATH AND EVIL

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, is quoted in a Berlin telegram transmitted by Reuters' Amsterdam correspondent as saying as follows to the crowd which gathered before his residence to congratulate him on his birthday:

"Your sincere words of friendly feeling are only an expression of the boundless devotion and love for our people which unites us all and with God's help protects us against death and evil. You have heard the earnest call recently addressed to the people, namely, the call to work, so that our fighting men shall not lack arms as the people at home do not lack what they need. The war service and the auxiliary service must today be our sole care. We must and shall answer the call."

"The spirit of the exciting August night which you have just recalled is still alive. Therefore, we shall vigorously support the burden of our time which weighs on our land and our people. When we think of our sons and our brothers who are fighting, bleeding and dying on the battlefield we are thinking of the holy wrath within us and of the Fatherland which no one can crush as long as the German people live."

ENTENTE ALLIES ARE RECRUITING IN SOUTH AMERICA

BERLIN, Nov. 29, by wireless to Sayville.—A correspondent of the paperische Rundschau on the Somme front says that the entente allies, in order to fill up gaps in their armies, are now recruiting in the French colonies in South America. In proof of this he says that among the prisoners recently taken on the Somme are negroes from Cayenne, French Guiana.

FINANCIAL CIRCLES IN LONDON ARE A BIT DISTURBED

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Financial circles in London were surprised by the warning sent out by the American federal reserve board cautioning banks not to invest their liquid assets too heavily in the British treasury notes about to be offered in the American market, and a first impression it was a disagreeable surprise. Prominent financiers declined to comment on the warning, at least until they had given it further consideration.

The general feeling among business men here is that the entente allies are each good customers of the United States that they can reasonably expect all possible accommodation in matters of payment and also that Great Britain's financial standing remains so high that all classes of government securities should be accepted in America, even under the present circumstances about as readily as American securities would be taken here.

There has been a certain amount of criticism both in parliament and by financial writers of the government's policy in meeting obligations by large issues of treasury bills, but the criticism was based on the argument that the government was paying a higher rate of interest than the standing of its credit necessitated, and that large issues of treasury bills tended to depreciate the prices of other securities.

RUSSIAN ATTACKS AT MANY PLACES ON ROMANIAN FRONT

BERLIN, Nov. 29, by wireless to Sayville.—The Russians began attacks yesterday at many places along the northern Romanian front, it is announced officially. They gained small local advantages at a heavy cost.

The Romanians in Wallachia, before Bucharest, are retreating in disorder.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A first-hand report of the torpedoing and sinking of the British steamship Marina, on Oct. 25 off the southwest coast of Ireland by which 19 persons including 6 Americans lost their lives, was given here today by 41 horsemen, American survivors of the Marina, who arrived on the steamship Tuscarora from Glasgow.

Jesse T. Hancock of Newport News, Va., acting as spokesman for the horsemen, said the ship was torpedoed without warning, two torpedoes being fired. He added—and his assertion was supported by the others—that the second torpedo was unnecessary and had it not been fired there would not, in all probability, have been any loss of life.

"It was shortly after 3.45 p. m. on Saturday, October 25, when we were about 65 miles off shore that we were attacked," said Mr. Hancock. "The first warning we had was when the torpedo hit our ship, the explosion all but breaking her in two. Four boats were launched in 15 minutes and it was while the fifth boat was being made ready that the second torpedo was fired. Its explosion killed the remaining men on the deck, 19 in all, including six of us horsemen.

"The submarine was sighted by us shortly after the sinking went down. It came to the surface several hundred yards distant but it did not offer us any assistance. We floated on our boats for 15 hours until we were discovered by the lookout on a light-house who signalled British patrol boats.

"When we left Newport News on Sept. 22 we had a cargo of horses and ammunition. The horses were landed at Avonmouth and the ammunition at Glasgow. We left Glasgow on the return trip to Baltimore on October 25. Before leaving Glasgow a gun was mounted on the stern and two gunners from a British war vessel were placed on board. Both gunners lost their lives as they stayed by their post in hopes of getting a shot at the submarine."

APPOINTED AMBASSADOR BATTLE EFFICIENCY OF THE ATLANTIC FLEET TO UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Dr. Aldunate Basconque, Chilean minister to Italy, has been appointed ambassador to the United States to succeed Eduardo Suarez Maylan who resigned recently to retire to private life. Dr. Basconque now is on his way to the United States.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

SALISBURY, N. C., Nov. 29.—A temporary injunction and restraining order was issued in the Rowan county superior court today against the state board of elections, Gov. Clegg and the secretary of state, to prevent issuance of a certificate of election to Zeigler Weaver, democrat, as member of congress from the tenth North Carolina district, because of disputed returns from Buncombe county. Representative L. J. Britt, republican, claims the election.

RUSSIAN TROOPS ARE ADVANCING ON TEUTONIC LINES

PETROGRAD, Nov. 29, via London, 2.10 p. m.—Russian troops advancing against the Teutonic lines east and south of Kiriababa in the southern Carpathians, have captured the ridges of heights there and taken 131 prisoners, the war office announced today.

TWO RUSSIAN TRANSPORTS SUNK LATTER PART OF OCTOBER

BERLIN, Nov. 29, by wireless to Sayville.—Two large Russian transports bound from Helsingfors for Revel were sunk in the latter part of October as the result, it is believed, of striking a mine, says a despatch from Stockholm to the Overseas News agency. The transports, it is said, had the entire 428th Russian regiment on board. This regiment, it is said, had been on duty for some time in Finland.

CENTRAL POWERS' UNDERBOAT SINKS STEAMSHIP IN EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN

LONDON, Nov. 29.—It was announced here today that the Greek steamship Margherita (probably the Margherita of 1112 tons gross) had been sunk by a submarine of the central powers in the eastern Mediterranean. The passengers and crew of the vessel were landed at Alexandria, Egypt.

It was while the fifth boat was being made ready that the second torpedo was fired. Its explosion killed the remaining men on the deck, 19 in all, including six of us horsemen.

"The submarine was sighted by us shortly after the sinking went down. It came to the surface several hundred yards distant but it did not offer us any assistance. We floated on our boats for 15 hours until we were discovered by the lookout on a light-house who signalled British patrol boats.

PARIS ANNOUNCES AN IMPORTANT ADVANCE BY SERBIANS

The situation of the Rumanian armies defending Bucharest appears increasingly critical. Only to the northwest of the capital do the Rumanian lines seem to be holding at all firmly and even here the capture of Curtea de Arges, on the Argeanu river, although that point is 50 miles distant from Bucharest, seems to indicate a weakening of the Rumanian resistance in this direction. On the southwest the peril is imminent. With the enveloping movement of the central powers placing their forces within 40 miles of the capital, news despatches have reported the Rumanian government and diplomatic officials leaving Bucharest for Jassy, 200 miles northeast of the capital, near the Russian frontier.

The rapid progress made by Gen. von Falkenhayn's armies moving east in Rumania of course has been largely made possible by the operations of the Danube forces under Field Marshal von Mackensen. Flanked out of the Alt valley position by the crossing of the river at Zimnizta, the Rumanian line along the Vedeia running diagonally northwest from the Danube, likewise is imperilled by the Teutonic occupation of Giurgiu, an advance from which would quickly compel a Rumanian retreat.

It still remains to be developed whether the process of flanking the Rumanian out of their positions is to be continued by other crossings of the Danube still further east. The southern bank of the river is held by the troops of the central powers to a point beyond the Tchernavoda.

That the retreat of the Rumanians toward the nearer defenses of Bucharest is already under way and is a precipitate one, is indicated by today's German official statement which announces a disorderly retirement of the Rumanian forces along the entire Wallachian front before General von Falkenhayn's steady advance. Von Mackensen's Danube armies are marching forward in a corresponding advance.

Possibly as a diversion in aid of the Rumanians, the Russians have taken the offensive near Kiriababa, on the Golden Bistritza, in the Carpathians northwest of the Rumanian frontier. Attacks here, Petrograd reports, netted them the ridges of heights east and south of Kiriababa and the capture of more than 700 prisoners. Berlin declares the Russian attacks, delivered at many points along the Carpathian and western Moldavian front, resulted only in local successes, which were paid for dearly.

With the exception of the Rumanian front, none is more active at present than the Macedonian. Whatever may have been the result of the recent heavy fighting there, regarding which German and entente accounts disagree, the allied armies do not appear to have slackened the force of their offensive in the Monastir region.

Paris today announces an important advance by the Serbians in which two heights were captured, notably one to the northwest of Grunishite, east of the Cerna river, where an effort evidently is being made to bring the line up to a level with that within the bend of the stream, towards Monastir. Meanwhile an advance is reported by the Italians in the region to the west of Monastir, where a violent battle is raging, in the course of which progress also has been made by the French.

PRICES OF FOODS JUMP 3 PER CENT IN MONTH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Retail prices of foods in the United States as a whole advanced 3 per cent. from Sept. 18, to Oct. 15, making a 15 per cent. increase for 12 months as shown in reports compiled today by the bureau of labor statistics. The figures came from 725 retail dealers in 45 principal industrial cities.

In the thirty days covered in the reports, meats declined in price from 1 to 6 per cent. but all other articles given, except tea, coffee and rice, advanced from 1 per cent. for hams to 6 per cent. for butter, bread and sugar and 11 per cent. for eggs.

Relative price changes of a number of articles during the month, putting the average 1915 prices at 100 per cent., are given as follows:

Decreases: Sirloin steak 3 per cent.; round steak 4 per cent.; rib roast 2 per cent.; chuck roast 2 per cent.; plate food beef 1 per cent.; pork chops 5 per cent.; ham, no change.

Increases: Smoked bacon 1 per cent.; lard 5 per cent.; eggs 11 per cent.; butter 6 per cent.; cheese 5 per cent.; milk 3 per cent.; bread 8 per cent.; flour 11 per cent.; corn meal 4 per cent.; potatoes 4 per cent.; onions 4 per cent.; beans 2 per cent.; prunes 1 per cent.; sugar 6 per cent.

Tables giving price increases for 12 months show potatoes led all foods with an increase of 75 per cent. and beans next with 55 per cent.

There were no price reductions, but coffee, tea and rice remained stationary.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER COMMIT SUICIDE

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Nov. 28.—The wife and daughter of Eugene C. Johnson, a wheelwright, committed suicide today by inhaling gas from a kitchen range. On returning home for dinner Johnson found the women on a couch which had been drawn up in front of the gas stove, the four coals of which were open wide. He said he knew of no reason for the act of either. Mrs. Johnson was 60 years of age and her daughter, Vivian, 28.

JOSEPH ANDREWS ROBBED IN STORE BY ARMED MEN

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—While Joseph Andrews was alone in his provision store, 1869 Columbus avenue, Roslindale, about 8:10 last night, he was held up by two young men, one of whom kept him quiet at the point of a revolver, while the other robbed the cash register and safe of $140 and a check for $25. The men then fled, with Andrews in pursuit, shouting for help, but he soon lost sight of them and returned to his store.

Andrews told the police the men were about 12 or 14 years old, dressed in dark clothes and light caps. They came into the store together, and while Andrews was looking at one of them, who started to talk, the other pushed a revolver into his face with the demand: "We want your money."

Andrews was cowed by the revolver, and one of the young robbers took $15 in silver from the cash register and then went to the rear part of the store, where he took $125 in bills and the check from the open safe.

The men ran to Columbus avenue and escaped through a side street.

Andrews called Station 10 by telephone and Lieut. Hennessy sent the auto patrol and a squad of patrolmen. The police arrived within five minutes, but a search of the neighborhood failed to find the robbers.

POLICE OFFICER DENOTED

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 28.—The police commission yesterday penalized Patrolman George F. Henry, Jr., on charges of abusive and conduct toward a prisoner, Robert White, Jr., son of Mrs. Gertrude M. White of 236 Pearl street. Henry was denoted in grade and ordered to perform ten extra tours of duty without pay. Chief Quilly will have the order read at roll call of the police and gave notice to members of the force that abuse of prisoners by officers would meet with the punishment deserved.

DIGESTION WORTH HAVING

Good digestion is not appreciated until you lose it. Then you cannot afford to experiment on remedies. Strong medicines are hard on weak stomachs. To be able to eat what you want and to digest it is a priceless blessing. If you have lost it do not be deceived by the claims of predigested foods and stomach tonics, so-called.

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. As the blood goes everywhere, an improvement in its condition quickly results in strengthening weak organs. Rich, red blood is absolutely necessary to digestion. If your stomach is weak and you are troubled with gas, sour risings in the throat, a feeling of pressure about the heart and palpitation, try the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

So many dyspepsias have been helped by this simple treatment that every sufferer from stomach trouble should try it. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has issued a booklet "What to Eat and How to Eat" that should be in every home. It gives just the information that you want regarding your diet. The company will mail Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, postpaid, at fifty cents per box or your own drug gift can supply you.

A Thanksgiving Proclamation

Every former sufferer from decayed teeth has reason to bless and thank the day they sought my services. From that day to this every day has been one of thanksgiving and contentment. It is foolish to keep putting off that often deferred visit to my offices. Delays only increase the trouble and expense.

MANY PROTESTS FILED AGAINST ELECTION

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—Whether or not a new election will be ordered by the international officers, in place of the primary election of the Boston Street Carriers' union, the results of which were announced yesterday afternoon, and which showed that practically an entire new list of officers is possible could not be stated at the headquarters of the union last night.

Protests against the manner in which the election was held were voiced by scores of voters when they cast their ballots on Monday. All of the protests were made by members opposed to the "machine" ticket.

One of the "machine" tickets, filed before the election, was that of William D. Mahon, international president, who was elected on the same grounds as those filed during the election.

The greatest surprise came with the defeat of Matthias J. Nesbitt for reelection as business agent, by Patrick J. Smith of Dorchester, by a vote of nearly three to one. Nesbitt's vote was 1121, while Smith received 3200.

Smith was a member of the first ward committee of the union and was one of the men whom Gen. Hancock, then president of the Boston Elevated, refused to meet before the strike of 1912.

The second surprise came with the vote received by William Thompson, also of Dorchester, who received 2221, while ex-Treasurer J. Higgins, who was second in a field of four, received but 1116 votes. Both Higgins and Thompson will contest for the office at the regular election. In this union, where but two candidates appear for an office in the primary election, the winner is declared elected.

The first woman to hold a "major office" in this organization is expected to be Miss Margaret Beatty of the receiving department, who led a field of nine candidates in the fight for the newly created office of assistant recording secretary, receiving 2663 votes to 556 polled for William J. Cummings, who was second.

The two nominated for vice president in a four-cornered fight were John J. Lyons, with 1527 votes, and Timothy A. Burns, with 1452. Charles N. Ross was declared elected financial secretary-treasurer, polling a vote of 2500, against 2467 received by Ernest Feenstrom.

Recording Secretary Owen T. Moore led a three-cornered fight for reelection by getting 1977 votes against 1912 for John W. Hurley. Arthur J. Gould was elected conductor, receiving 2955 votes, against 1711 for Frank E. Elsworth. Michael H. Flynn, recording secretary, received 2581 votes, while his opponent, James B. Flynn, received 2550. In a three-cornered fight for sentinel Coleman S. Joyce, with 2267, and Michael J. O'Hara, with 1115, were nominated.

URGENT NO-LICENSE VOTE

Pastors of 11 Catholic Churches in Cambridge Send Open Letter to Citizens

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—Eleven pastors, representing all the Roman Catholic churches in Cambridge, yesterday sent an open letter to the voters of that city urging them to vote "No" on the license question at the municipal elections, Dec. 5. The letter emphasizes the benefits that have been derived from the city since its first prohibition in 1858.

The signers of the letter are: Rev. John O'Brien, Sacred Heart church, East Cambridge; Rev. Henry Zaluski, St. Bernard's church, East Cambridge; Rev. A. J. Parnoch, St. Anthony's church, East Cambridge; Rev. Patrick H. Callahan, St. Peter's church, Rev. John J. Ryan, St. Paul's

ST. COLUMBA'S LADIES HELD SOCIAL PARTY

The first of a series of winter socials under the auspices of the Ladies' society of St. Columba's church was held in the parish hall in Manchester road last night. There was a good sized attendance and the affair proved to be a grand success. While was enjoyed during the evening and an entertaining program of vocal and other selections was carried out. The interior of the hall was decorated in an artistic manner for the occasion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, chairman of the society had general charge. The winners at cards were Miss Laura Connor and Mrs. Roger Hayes, first and second women's prizes, respectively, and Fred Bush and Anthony Powers, first and second men's prizes. Consolation prizes were also awarded Mrs. John Walsh and Joseph McAviney.

The committee in charge comprised Mrs. E. Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Michael Lynch, Mrs. David Dundon, Mrs. Patrick Brosnan, Mrs. James Farley, Mrs. John Moran, Mrs. John Reegan, Mrs. Michael Garity and Misses Catherine Farrell, Jennie Cogger, Martha Landon, Helen Brady, Mary Gleason, Julia McNulty, Julia Angier, Nellie Halloran, Joseph Haddon and Lillian Brown. These were assisted by members of the newly formed young women's organization, including Misses Edith Patrick, Helen Douglas, Gertrude Kennedy, Josephine Lyons, Mildred Wien, Sallie Lyons and Alice Regan.

FRAUD CLAIMED

Reported That Drug Addicts Call on Druggists and Pretend to be Internal Revenue Inspectors

The collector of internal revenue at Boston has received reports of several cases where drug addicts have called on druggists and pretended to be internal revenue inspectors. In these cases, the person calling would ask to be allowed to examine the records of the druggist and his stock of narcotics and other drugs, pretending to make an examination would secretly take away whatever morphine, cocaine, etc., was available. This has resulted in small amounts of drugs coming unlawfully into the possession of drug addicts and disarranging the records which dealers are required to keep.

Such frauds are entirely unnecessary, because the internal revenue inspectors authorized to examine druggists' records are all furnished with credentials in the form of pocket commissions signed by the commissioner of internal revenue, William H. Burgh, by Deputy Commissioner David H. Smith, or by collector of internal revenue John P. Collier.

Druggists should not allow any one to inspect their stock of narcotic drugs, unless satisfied of the authority of the inspector. In the case of internal revenue drug inspectors, the inspectors should ask to see the collector's credential card, in order to avoid impersonation and fraud.

FORMER LOWELL COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Taylor Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary at Woodsville, N. H.

WOODSVILLE, N. H., Nov. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Taylor, of Lowell, Mass., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home yesterday afternoon and evening a steady stream of guests paid their respects to the couple. Light refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Taylor, son-in-law and daughter, and Samuel L. Taylor, of Westford, Mass., were in the city. Mr. Taylor assisted in receiving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married Nov. 28, 1866, in Lowell, Mass., where they resided about ten years, going to New Hampshire after living there a short time they moved to North Haverhill, where they resided 22 years, and then came to Woodsville. They have four children, Mrs. Carrie M. Carr, with whom they make their home.

Mr. Taylor, or "Uncle Tommy," as he is generally known, was born in Lowell, Mass., Nov. 23, 1818, the son of William and Mary Ledy Taylor. He is a carpenter and was employed in the bridge department of the U. S. & N. railroad from 1854 until within about a year ago. He served nearly two years in the Civil war, enlisting with Third Maine Heavy Artillery, Department of the Gulf from Massachusetts.

He has past commander of the U. S. G. A. and served three years in a number of blue-chip hotels. He has been a member of the Woodsville Methodist church.

Mrs. Taylor was born in Haverhill, Mass., the daughter of Samuel and Mary (Hunt) Taylor. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, past president of the U. S. G. A. and a member of the committee in charge of the memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were the recipients of a number of gifts.

WOMEN OUT FOR SCHOOL BOARD
BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The first woman to be a candidate for the school board was Elizabeth A. H. Steeper, a housewife of the high school district and prominent in social circles, who announced her candidacy yesterday afternoon. She had been a member of the board and had been elected to the position of president of the board.

How to Help Thousands
If everyone is anxious to help in some way to remove pain and suffering—that is why so many homes now have on hand a ready-to-use, safe, reliable, and effective remedy, it is sold by drug stores everywhere as the dependable treatment for rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, indigestion, sore throat, stiff joints and for sore hands and feet. Minard's Liniment quickly and surely gives instant relief. It is absolutely pure, entirely stainless and cannot burn nor blister. It soothes the inflamed glands and bruises and heals beautifully. The fact that Edison's new invention, the New Edison, Re-Creates the human voice with such literal fidelity that the living voice cannot be distinguished from the Re-Creation of it has been demonstrated in public more than 300 times.

Great artists such as Marie Tappold, Anna Case, Alice Verlet, Christine Miller, Arthur Middleton and Thomas Chalmers, standing beside the New Edison, have sung alternately with it, and it is a fact, which can be proved by accounts of those appearing before it more than two hundred of America's leading newspapers that it was impossible for the audience to distinguish the artists' living voices from Edison's Re-Creation of them on his latest and greatest invention, the New Edison.

WORLD'S FAIR IDEA IS OPPOSED

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The World's Fair idea for celebrating the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims was opposed as inconsistent with the ideals of the forefathers by Capt. Charles Brooks Appleton, past commander of the National Lancers, at a meeting of the Society of Colonial Wars in Young's hotel yesterday afternoon.

Captain Appleton declared the Pilgrims were not "money grabbers" and said he believed most of the members of the patriotic societies are not in favor of spending millions of dollars in Boston to observe the landing at Plymouth. He suggested that the societies appoint delegates to a joint meeting for the purpose of discussing the anniversary.

If there is to be such a celebration in Boston, Capt. Appleton said, the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston in 1630 would be a more appropriate occasion.

Something Roosevelt Didn't Know

Fred Arnold Jenks, who has recently returned to Plymouth, his birthplace, after a residence of about 20 years in Boston, suggested that a proper memorial for the patriotic societies to erect in his home town might include statues of both Gov. Bradford and Gov. Winthrop to set forth to visitors the difference between the Pilgrims and the Puritans. Mr. Jenks pointed out that Col. Roosevelt, in his address at the laying of the cornerstone of the Provincetown monument, was not aware of this distinction.

Desmond Fitzgerald of Brookline urged that it would be preferable to restore the Plymouth shanty to its original condition as a setting for Plymouth rock. Charles F. Reed of Brookline suggested that the patriotic societies might raise the money necessary to carry out this plan.

Mr. Jenks spoke of the growth of the town meeting in Plymouth. "On the 26th of January, 1620," he said, "the town meeting was held in the home of Mistress Bradford. Is it possible that even then the women of the colony and began their fight for suffrage? The suffragists of today must envy Mistress Bradford for one thing, she maintained the freedom of the town must have had some influence.

Praises the Town Meeting

"The politician does not love the town meeting. It is too hard to handle. It is a lamentable condition of the present day and the people are loved so much and trusted so little. The great business of major towns hall today recruits its ranks from two sources, the colleges and the sandlots. It is difficult to tell which are best. If the man from the college brings a greater degree of scientific knowledge, the one from the sandlots brings natural ability, initiative and pluck."

"The ranks of our younger politicians are recruited from two sources, the colleges and the sandlots. It is some time since I saw a man with a sufficient knowledge of the people to be able to lead them in the way of the father who supported him to govern himself."

"The young ward leader after one year in the legislature, backed by a strong political club, clothed in conceit and wearing the livery of egotism, knows the people better than the old-fashioned, clear-eyed man who has been to the polls."

"For my own part, too modest to seek public office and not inclined to fight for it, rather old-fashioned, I admit a profound respect, awe, reverence for those men of the early days who, with the folk who lived in the shadow of their feet, have left behind them a tradition, trusted that the universal good."

ICE CAME DOWN RIVER

The sight of small pieces of ice in the Merrimack river and several of the local canals yesterday gave one the impression that spring instead of winter is approaching. The ice was supposed to have come down from New Hampshire. Considerable ice went over the Pawtucket falls, while other pieces found their way into the Pawtucket canal and thence into the Western canal, a considerable amount floating under the arch in Merrimack street at the Y.M.C.A. building.

O.M.I. CADET MEETING

A meeting of the O.M.I. Cadets as well as the drum corps connected with that organization has been called for tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Inman-Conception hall. The meeting will arrange for the reception to be tendered Cardinal O'Connor on Sunday.

"AMERICA FIRST" EVENT BY BOARD OF TRADE

GRAND BANQUET ARRANGED FOR DEC. 7 AT THE KASINO—PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Officials of the board of trade are sending out invitations to the members to attend the "America First" banquet, which will be given under the auspices of the organization at the Casino on Thursday evening, Dec. 7. Those who desire to attend the festivities are requested to reply to the invitation Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 6 p. m., which date has been set as the latest for the making of reservations for the dinner.

The speakers at the dinner will be George W. Perkins of New York, whose topic will be "The Need of Cooperation in American Industry," and H. H. Wheaton of Washington, D. C. Word was received yesterday from R. G. Rhetts, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, to the effect that he will be unable to come to Lowell on account of being a member of the recently appointed commission to go into the subject of the munitions manufacture by the government and by private concerns. The dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock sharp and as usual favors will be given to the guests.

EMPEROR PRAYS AT THE BIER OF FRANCIS JOSEPH

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 28.—

A Berlin official telegram says that the German emperor arrived in Vienna yesterday morning and left the city in the evening. Owing to a slight cold the emperor's physicians prevailed upon him to abandon his intention of attending the funeral of Emperor Francis Joseph. The telegram says:

"The German emperor refused to renounce his duty of bidding farewell, both personally and as supreme lord of the allied German forces, to the deceased ruler. The emperor traveled quietly in prayer at the bier of Francis Joseph, on which he laid a wreath. The emperor especially requested that an official reception be accorded him. Today was thus devoted quietly to the memory of the deceased and to a talk with the young imperial couple, with whom the emperor expressed an ardent desire to have a long visit in these earliest days."

Domestic of 185 Grand street and Nick Canavours of 7 Lewis street, hawkers and peddlers; Sabag, Kereksian, 441 Central street, common peddler; Leik Shamsie of 124 Howard street, book collector; Kereksian, Zorahia of 411 Adams street, Sunday permit.

Surrendered and expelled—Wilbert Ready, driver's permit for W. W. Murphy & Co.

Transferred—Thomas Abbot, pool at 25 Suffolk street; Louis

Under the new city ordinance, an application for a 300 cart was received from Alfred F. Webb, 92 N. Cross street, and was granted.

YOUTH NEARLY DROWNED IN BEAVER BROOK

John Calhoun, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun of Pleasant street, Braintree, had a narrow escape from drowning in Beaver Brook yesterday. But for the assistance rendered by Joseph Knight young Calhoun might have drowned.

Calhoun was skating on thin ice about noon when the ice broke and he went into the water. His cries attracted the attention of the boys of the neighborhood, who were skating nearby. One of them, Joseph Knight, succeeded in pulling the boy out of the water and more of the ice broke and Knight was also precipitated into the water. A rope was thrown to him and when he caught it, he was pulled ashore.

In the meanwhile Calhoun was held on to the bank, and after Knight had been pulled out, he succeeded in pulling Calhoun out of the water, and rescuing Calhoun. There was much the worse for their experience.

CARELESSNESS causes many ills

Be as careful to keep well, as you are to get well, and you will have little need to worry about yourself. The advice most needed and least heeded is—"Take care of yourself." So many are careless about their health, that they need to be constantly reminded how important it is to keep stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in good order. For this purpose

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are most effective. Take them at the first indication of a sick headache, a bilious attack, an upset stomach, sluggish bowels, inactive kidneys, or when you feel "blue" and out of sorts. These famous pills go right to the cause of the trouble and remove it. They sweeten the stomach, strengthen the digestion, cleanse the system of impurities, arouse the liver to activity and regulate the bodily functions. Use them and you will soon feel the difference, for they act promptly and leave no unpleasant after-effects. For over sixty years Beecham's Pills have been the family remedy of the civilized world. Time has proved their power to relieve and prevent the common ills of life, and to

BURKE READY TO MEET NEBES IN BIG RACE

Harry Burke, the Bridgeport skater, and Albert Nebes, the local flyer, have finally come to terms over the proposed roller skating race to be held here next week. The match calls for three races on three nights, the man winning the best two out of three copping the side bet as well as the long end of the prize offered by Manager Moore of the Rollaway rink. Mr. Burke, in answer to Mr. Nebes' letter accepting his challenge, writes as follows:

Sporting Editor, Lowell Sun:

Dear Sir: In your letter and also in the copy of your paper received by me I note where Mr. Nebes has accepted my challenge. To show you I am sincere about these races, I am sending you a money order for $100 (and also one to Mr. Paradise of the Courier-Citizen for same amount) as Mr. Nebes has decided to take me on for $200 a side and I now ask that each paper hold half, which is satisfactory to me. As for dates, would say that I had previous arrangements for Dec. 7th but have just phoned my party and find that some other date will answer him as well, so will be in Lowell to meet this much talked of skater on the dates Dec. 7th, 8th and 9th for 3 mile, 5 mile and 10 mile races respectively.

Trusting this agreement and money order will be found in order and that distances meet Mr. Nebes' approval, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Harry Burke,
Bridgeport, Conn.

AT THE ROLLAWAY

Billy Carpenter, Champion Fancy and Trick Skater, Opens Engagement Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock Billy Carpenter, the world's champion fancy and trick roller skater, will make his first appearance in Lowell in ten years, when he will open a three days' engagement at the Rollaway rink on Hurd street. Billy is a former Lowell boy, leaving the city 10 years ago as an ordinary skater, and his return with the championship title, is an achievement that all his friends and admirers are elated over. They plan to turn out in large numbers to greet him, during his stay in the Spindle City. The champion will arrive in Lowell tomorrow morning and several of his close friends intend to meet him at the depot, to welcome him back to his native city. After renewing acquaintances, Billy will wend his way to the rink, where he will try out the various stunts that made him famous throughout the world. He will put in considerable time on the floor, for he wants to be at his best, when the crowd appears for his initial performance tomorrow afternoon at 2.30. He will perform tomorrow afternoon and evening, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening. The matinees will be at 3.30 o'clock, while the evening performances will be at 9 o'clock. Admission 10 cents. Regular skating before and after the exhibition.

LEAGUE RESULTS AND BOWLING SCORES

The White Ways captured two strings and the total from the league leading Kimballs in an important match in the City Bowling League last evening. Jodoin of the Kimballs was high man with a total of 349 and a single of 130. His score was the best of the evening though Varney of the Newtons beat him two pins on a single string. The Newton Mfg. Co., Crescents and Highland Daylights were the other winners, defeating Carrs, the Jewels and Boyds.

Two games were rolled on Kittredge's alleys in the Baraca league, the Highland Congregational and Highland Methodist teams winning over the Pawtucketville Congregational and the Trinitarian. The Merrimack alleys were the scene of two red hot Broadway league games and the Bridge street alleys staged two matches in the Bridge street league.

Haverhill Halfback Said to Have Given Wrong Age to the Advisory Board

HAVERHILL, Nov. 29.—Haverhill high school's football team, which has not lost a game this season, may have its victories protested, owing to an exposure by the Lowell high school athletic officials that Homer Staples, Haverhill's halfback, was born in 1895. He presented a certificate showing that he was born in 1897 to his school's advisory board, of which he was a member.

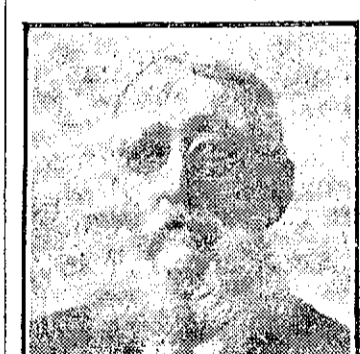

The other members, representing the faculty, students and school committee, have dismissed him from the team, forbidden him to take part in school athletics and censuring him for presenting false evidence. He is a senior. He played in all the games this season except with Lowell.

Haverhill's only remaining game, with Lowell, from Haverhill, on Thanksgiving morning, is the biggest of the schedule.

Half a Century Sailed Old Briny

John Chipman, Retired Sailor, Tells to His Friends an Interesting Story

In order that any man or woman may derive a full measure of pleasure and success from life, it is necessary that he or she should be possessed of health in mind and body. It is certain that the greatest thing in all the world is health without it a man can scarcely do anything worth doing; he can accomplish little that is really worth accomplishing. Attention to health then should take the place of every other object that which is necessary to secure it should receive consideration in preference to everything else, as for instance, the new bodily stomach remedy, Plant Juice, which is gaining such a following in Lowell, where daily grateful people are testifying to its merits and recommending it to their friends.

Recently, the signed testimonial of Mr. John C. Chipman, a retired sailor, who lives now at the "Sailors' Home," Stone Harbor, Quincy, Mass., was received. Mr. Chipman has sailed the seas for 60 years and is well known in all the harbors along the New England coast. He has hosts of friends who will be glad to learn of his recovery to health. He stated:

"For the past four years I was troubled with rheumatism, contracted while at sea, and I had terrible pains all over my body. I could not sleep at night on account of the pain and would walk the floor all night long many a night. My stomach was in a very weak condition and I could hardly keep any food in it. I had such pains in my arms and shoulders that I could hardly move them. I had tried so many different kinds of medicine that I was very skeptical as to what of them ever did me the least good. When I heard so much about Plant Juice I thought I would try it, although I had little faith in its curative power. After taking it for several weeks I was greatly surprised at the wonderful results I obtained. I can now eat any kind of food and have a good appetite for my meals. I sleep well at night and the pains have left my system. I consider myself entirely cured, and am glad to recommend Plant Juice to all of my friends."

The Plant Juice Man is at the Dose Drug Store, Main Street, Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of the remedy.

LAWRENCE HIGH TO PLAY HERE TOMORROW

The big local high school football game of the season will be played at Spalding park tomorrow morning with Lawrence high, Lowell's old rivals, as opponents. The game will start at 10 o'clock and there will doubtless be a record crowd of graduates, undergraduates and other followers of the Lowell team.

Lowell high will go into the game a great favorite judging from the records of the teams this year. Lawrence, which started the season with a team made up almost entirely of new men, suffered many humiliating defeats but Coach Walter A. Sidley, by hard work, has assembled an eleven that has given other teams a hard battle in the past few games. Lawrence won its first game of the season about two weeks ago and has added another one since.

The Lowell team is in better shape than for several weeks. Capt. Liston is stronger than he was in the game with Dorchester Saturday. The other members of the team are in perfect condition.

Final preparations for tomorrow's game were made at Spalding park this afternoon when the players were put through a light drill in practice earlier in the week. Coach Conway gave the boys some severe work but took no chances so far as injuries were concerned. The teams are evenly matched in weight and the fans can look for a scrappy game with Lowell on the winning end.

The student body of the Lowell high school has held several enthusiastic meetings this week and the attendance will easily break all records of the season. The Sixth regiment band has been engaged to play during the game and this will prove a great attraction. The students have rehearsed several new songs and cheers which they will sing for the first time tomorrow. It is also expected that Lawrence will send a big delegation of fans.

at 2.30 o'clock. Both teams are in great condition for the battle and each will present its strongest lineup. The Fort Strong team defeated the Indians last season in the local team's final game by the score of 7 to 6. It was a battle royal, and tomorrow's contest is expected to be of the same order. The Indians have set up a new record this season. By defeating the Orientals last Saturday the Indians got back at the only team to humble them this season.

FIRE ON FRANKLIN ST. DESTROYED AN ELL

What threatened to be a dangerous fire broke out in the kitchen of the residence of Mr. Asa R. Plaisted, 64 Franklin street, shortly before five o'clock last night. That the fire was confined to the rear of the house was due to the early discovery, prompt response of the firemen and their effective work upon arriving on the scene.

The building is a two and a half-story stone structure with the kitchen in the ell. About 4:45 o'clock Mrs. Plaisted, who was alone in the house, went down cellar to attend the furnace and had been there not more than five minutes when she heard a crackling sound and then smelled smoke. She rushed up stairs and found the interior of the kitchen ablaze. She shouted for help and an alarm was sent in from box 17.

When the department arrived the interior of the kitchen was like a roaring furnace and the blaze had worked its way up into the roof. After half an hour's battle the fire was under control, but not before the interior of the ell had been gutted.

Mrs. Plaisted was unable to state how the fire started owing to the fact that there had been no fire in the kitchen stove during the day, but Chief Saunders after making inquiries was of the opinion that Mrs. Plaisted accidentally started it herself. She had some clothes hanging on a rack over the stove and when she started for the cellar she took a candle. In taking the candle from the shelf to go toward the stairs the flame came in contact with the clothes and without noticing what had happened she went down stairs. It was very evident that the fire had its inception near the clothes hanging.

Mrs. Plaisted's pet canary was suffocated during the fire. When the firemen arrived, one of them noticed the cage rushed out of the house with it but the bird was dead.

Another Grass Fire

An alarm from box 824 at 5:03 yesterday afternoon gave the department a long run to Circuit avenue to extinguish a grass fire on land belonging to Danahue Lafayette.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, was held last night in Grafton hall, Chief Ranger Thomas P. K. Boy presiding. Five applications for membership were read and two candidates for initiation were balloted upon and elected. The class initiation committee submitted a long report on the plans adopted for the initiation which is to take place in February. The social committee reported that arrangements for the social to be held the latter part of January were well under way. Under the order of new business many matters of importance were discussed and adopted. Under the good and welfare of the court, remarks of interest were made by Thomas Allen, Michael Reid and John P. Sullivan. After the meeting a social hour was held.

The members of Echo lodge, N.E.O.P., met in regular session last night and held its memorial service in honor of deceased members, the exercises being held in Post 135 hall. As the roll of departed members was read files were draped, as was the charter of the lodge. Miss Ella McNabb played piano accompaniments during the service. Nomination of officers will take place at the next meeting of the lodge, Dec. 12.

Samuel H. Hines lodge, 56, K. of P.,

met in regular session last night, with Daniel E. Sharkey presiding. Reports of sick members were read. A letter was received from Grand Chancellor Harlan P. Knight in regard to the reception to be held in Lawrence on Dec. 8 for Supreme Chancellor Judge John J. Brown of Illinois. The rank of esquire was worked on one page for Lowell lodge. Election of officers will come at the next meeting.

TEXTILE COUNCIL ACTED ON WAGE INCREASE

At a meeting of the Lowell Textile council held last evening it was unanimously voted to refuse an increase in wages in the local mills less than 10 per cent.

Frank A. Warnock, president of the Trades and Labor council, was endorsed as the labor candidate for commissioner at a meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last evening with Vice President John W. Downing in the chair. No other candidate was endorsed.

A successful smoke talk was conducted in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street last evening by Local 588, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of the organization of the union. Refreshments were served during the evening and a musical and literary program was given. The committee responsible for the success of the event consisted of Henry Hogan, Joseph Hanley and Bert Robertson.

At a meeting of the Weavers and Worsted Weavers' union held last evening 37 new members were initiated and 19 applications for membership were received. Considerable other business was transacted.

A feature of last evening's meeting of the Cotton Weavers' union was the initiation of 102 members.

MILITARY TRAINING BETWEEN 12 AND 23

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Universal military training in some form as the solution of the recruiting problem for the army and navy, will be placed formally before congress during the coming session if Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee is successful in carrying out his announced program.

Senator Chamberlain said the virtual impossibility of recruiting the army up to the peace strength authorized in the national defense act already had been demonstrated. Both army and navy recruiting services are combating the country for men, he declared, with little success. The army has been unable to obtain even the 20,000 additional men provided for when the Mexican situation became acute, and the navy is making such slow progress with its increases that officials are perplexed.

The Chamberlain bill would require military training of all boys between 12 and 21 years of age except those specially exempted. The active division, composed of those between 18 and 21 years, would be known as the citizen army, and the younger corps as the citizen cadet corps.

GUN AND RIFLE CLUB GETS CUP FROM MR. COHO

The Gun and Rifle club of the U. S. Cartridge company had a memorable meeting last evening in the rooms of the organization in the hidden building, the special feature of the occasion being the presentation to the club of a beautiful silver cup by H. B. Coho, former business director of the local plant but now with the United Local Co.

Mr. Coho, who is a life long member of the club, was unable to be present in person but was represented by John F. Ketchum, who made an appropriate speech of presentation. The trophy was accepted by Louis Hurdnett, president of the club and there was a splendid appreciation of Mr. Coho, voiced by W. H. Beach of the welfare department.

The club, which is an especially beautiful one, will remain the permanent property of the club and will be contested for yearly by its individual members. The winners each season are to have their names engraved upon its surface. This year's winner is James E. Hoole of Andrews street. During the evening refreshments were served and the meeting closed with everybody in a Thanksgiving spirit.

CHELMSFORD

The schools of Chelmsford will close this afternoon and remain closed until Monday, and many of the teachers have signed their intention to attend the 2nd annual meeting of the Massachusetts teachers' association in Boston on Friday. The morning address will be delivered by Governor McCull.

There was a grass fire last evening which threatened for a while to do serious damage. Before being put out it had burned a 100 foot strip along the railroad tracks from James Chapman's house to David Ingham's. The Chelmsford school will give its annual party at the town hall and a large attendance is expected. At the union service to be held at the Unitarian church this evening at 7:30 Rev. E. A. Robinson will speak on "Magnifying God with Our Thanksgiving."

Miss Susan S. McFarlin has recovered from her recent illness and is again teaching at the Centre school. Miss Florence Colpitts has returned to the village after an absence of more than a year.

CATHOLIC CHURCH SERVICES. Thanksgiving will be observed in most of the Catholic churches of Lowell by special services, and in some cases there will be requiem masses, requested by some of the patriotic or religious societies.

At St. Patrick's church there will be a mass for the deceased members of the Holy Name society at 8, and at 9 there will be a mass for the deceased members of the Chan-in-Gael, the United Brotherhood and the Irish martyrs who died in Dublin last Easter week.

At St. Michael's there will be a mass for the deceased members of the Holy Name society at 8 o'clock.

At the Immaculate Conception there will be a mass for the deceased benefactors of the church at 9 o'clock. At the Sacred Heart church there will be a mass for the recent Irish martyrs at 10 o'clock and many of the societies will form in their respective halls and will march to the church.

U. S. BUNTING CLUB TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Over 22 years ago a few men met and banded themselves together and formed the United States Bunting Cricket club and Athletic association. During that time there has been many other clubs organized for the same purpose, but the Bunting club is the only one which has survived all these years. Nearly 400 members are enrolled on the club's roster and the financial condition of the club has always been sound.

During the last ten years rapid strides have been made and thousands of dollars have been expended which have resulted in one of the best up-to-date club buildings for athletic and social purposes and one of the most beautiful parks in the vicinity, a cinder track of five laps to the mile with bleachers and grandstands with a large seating capacity surrounding the athletic field. The Bunting club have brought to the crack runners of the United States and Canada, giving enjoyment to thousands of people. They have had among their guests many prominent men, including Governor McCall and Senator Lodge.

They have a splendid record as an athletic organization and New England officials have awarded to them great praise for the way in which they have conducted their big athletic meets. They have done more for the advancement of outdoor athletics than any other organization in New England.

Today night, Dec. 7, the Bunting club will observe the 22d anniversary of their organization at their headquarters in South Lowell. A banquet will be served at 8 p. m. Afterward post-prandial exercises will be held with President Frederick C. Humphreys as toastmaster. Two hundred persons are expected to sit down to the turkey supper.

Thomas E. White is chairman of the banquet committee and the other members who have the affair in hand are Samuel J. Nichol, George Emsley, John W. Foster, Harry W. Short and Daniel J. Lynch.

MEETS WILL SETTLE ALL AROUND ACQUATIC

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 29.—The schedule of dual meets in the championship tournament of the Intercollegiate Swimming association was announced today. The dual meets will serve to settle the team titles of the league in all around aquatics and in water polo. The following dates have been set: Dec. 8, Columbia vs. College of the City of New York at New York; Dec. 15, Pennsylvania vs. College of the City of New York at New York; Jan. 15, College of the City of New York vs. Yale at New Haven; Jan. 12, Pennsylvania vs. Princeton at Princeton; Jan. 12, College of the City of New York vs. Yale at New Haven; Jan. 13, Pennsylvania vs. Princeton at Philadelphia; Jan. 13, Yale vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Feb. 25, Yale vs. Princeton at Princeton; March 12, College of the City of New York vs. Yale at New Haven; March 13, Pennsylvania vs. Princeton at Princeton; March 16, Yale vs. Princeton at Princeton; March 21, Columbia vs. Yale at New Haven.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

CUTTERS AND MODERN RADIO APPARATUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Construction of three new cutters, equipment of cruising cutters with modern radio apparatus and repair and extension of telephone and telegraph lines used in its work were recommended to congress today in the annual report of Capt. E. L. Herthoff, commandant of the coast guard service. The cutters asked would cost together $1,100,000 and be stationed at Detroit, Honolulu and Beaufort, N. C. Particular emphasis was laid on the need for a cutter at Beaufort, N. C., the report saying at present cutters must go to assist ships in distress off Hatteras, "the birthplace of derelicts" either from Norfolk or Wilmington, and that a vessel stationed there would prove of invaluable assistance.

In speaking of the existing radio sets, the report says nine of the cutters in service are equipped with obsolete apparatus because of lack of funds, although congress has required all merchant sea-goers to install auxiliary apparatus. To put the 1500 miles of telephone and cable lines owned by the service in good condition, the report asks for $50,000 and to connect stations in out of the way points with commercial telephone or telegraph lines about $5000 additional.

Owing to increasing difficulty in securing engineering officers a recommendation is made for the combination by law of the engineer corps and the line of the guard.

During the past year 1216 persons were saved from peril or death by the guard and vessels valued at $10,508,655 assisted. The service spent during the year $5,215,711.

Some minor modifications remain to be fixed but the navy department has insisted upon certain features of construction. The bids are close to the limit. It will be about two years before the first of the ships are delivered to the government.

SOME SILVER PESOS

MANTLA, Nov. 29.—The government has sold 7,500,000 silver pesos from the silver certificate fund to the International bank for shipment to Shanghai, where they will be melted into bullion. The approximate profit to the government will be one million pesos.

DUTCH CONSUL GENERAL

THE HAGUE, via London, Nov. 29.—H. A. Van Coenen Torrhanna, Dutch consul general at San Francisco, who has been here in conference with The Netherlands government, has been ordered to Washington on a special mission to confer with Secretary of State Lansing. He will sail for the United States next Tuesday on the Holland liner Noordam.

COL. VEALE DEAD

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 29.—Col. George Washington Veale, prominent in Kansas affairs for more than half a century, died here last night aged 83. He served 17 years in the state legislature and 14 years in the national house of representatives.

WHY WE GIVE THANKS

On the eve of Thanksgiving it is proper to ask ourselves for what we, American citizens and other residents of this republic, have a right to be thankful for.

The answer to such a question will at once suggest the ineffable blessings of peace as contrasted with the exterminating ravages and horrors of war now obliterating the very semblance of civilization all over Europe.

Here at this time we enjoy peace with freedom such as never existed in any other land, freedom in which each citizen shares in the sovereignty of the people and the power which in other lands is wielded only by supreme rulers.

It is only by contrast with the horrible conditions that prevail in Europe that we can properly estimate the heavenly blessings and the sublime privileges we enjoy in this land of perfect freedom. Here in Lowell we have many nationalities and perhaps 15,000 able-bodied male immigrants who, had they not come here some years ago, would all have been drafted for military service under the various powers engaged in that world conflict. Daily we see them plying their various occupations in our factories; and all are apparently happy except those who mourn parents, sisters or brothers ground beneath the nation-crushing juggernaut of war. On Sundays we see thousands of young men, natives of Poland, going to church, and the thought must have occurred to everybody who looks upon them in the very bloom of manly youth and vigor, that if they had not come here, they would probably all have been buried in the trenches by this time or else have fallen otherwise in the awful struggle in which Russia and the Teutons have swept that ill-fated country again and again in the terrific tidal waves of war.

In this respect the human mind cannot conceive the vast yawning chasm between the peace, the freedom, the prosperity and the happiness we here enjoy and the unspeakable sufferings following in the train of a war in which the highest ingenuity of man has been used for the invention of new engines for the destruction of human life and in which in addition to the most powerful explosives flaming oil and poisonous gases have been used in a manner that one might suppose could be conceived only by the blackest and vilest fiends of the infernal regions.

Why should we give thanks? Oh! it is only the consideration of the conditions prevailing in Europe and elsewhere that can bring us to a proper realization of the unparalleled blessings we enjoy and what devout homage we owe to this land of freedom and its beloved flag under which every man is free and by virtue of our constitution the equal of every other.

Here in Lowell we have reason to be thankful for the general prosperity enjoyed by all our industries as evidenced by the recent increase in wages and by the steady employment of everybody who wants to work. The high cost of living presses rather heavily upon many families, but it is hoped that the near future will show an improvement in this respect. Such a temporary shadow should not be allowed to darken the glorious serenity of the Thanksgiving that comes to us freighted with so many incomparable blessings.

But in spite of the most favorable conditions, the poor we have always with us; and it will doubtless be a source of pleasure and happiness to those who can afford it, to see that the poor, the dejected and forlorn shall be made partakers in the general joy of this great festival.

In this connection let us carry out the good counsel of His Excellency, Gov. McCall, in his Thanksgiving proclamation when he says:

"Our thanks should first be felt and spoken, not for the things that are material, but for those that minister to the spirit, for the things that make our Commonwealth more beautiful to look upon and better to live in, and that tell for a higher life and a fairer civilization. With our thanks for a system of government founded upon civil and religious liberty let us unite our prayers for that system's preservation. To our gratitude for what has been given us as a people let each one of us add thanks for the good that has come into his own life. Let us not forget that thanks for our blessings are indeed empty unless they are crowned by compassion for the sorrows of others and by the endeavor to make those sorrows lighter not only by our prayers but by our deeds."

NEW PHASES OF THE WAR

The Russian czar is hastening toward the Rumanian border with the intention, it is alleged, of trying to stop the progress of the central powers in overrunning Rumania. In all probability his arrival will come too late to be of any advantage to the little country that entered the war on the side of the entente allies.

It is expected that Russia will now abandon the campaign on the eastern front further north and project a movement to drive the Teutons from Rumania. This will be a most difficult undertaking once they get themselves dug in. The task of driving back the Germans when fully entrenched has proven one that the armies of France and England have found almost insuperable. The battles of Mons, the Marne and still later the Somme afford ample evidence of the overwhelming force and artillery power necessary to dislodge a German army from its entrenched positions. Russia has never been able to do it with any degree of success and we doubt whether she can do it in Rumania where the leading generals of Germany have the honor of the German army operating for the capture of Bucharest and the conquest of Rumania.

It is therefore quite likely that some of the hardest fighting in the war will take place in Rumania which Germany intends to subjugate even as she has Belgium, while on the other hand, Russia has pledged to exert all her power for the delivery of Rumania as she primarily did for the defense of little Serbia.

From present indications it appears that while the Germans have failed to take Verdun and cannot make any further advance against the allies on the western front, neither can the allies make any material progress against the German trenches except at enormous cost. The Somme drive offers proof of this. Hence the impression now prevails that the results did not justify the expenditure although the drive was but one feature of the general plan of wearing down the powers of Germany.

It is now very generally conceded that while the British blockade has caused Germany a great deal of inconvenience it can never starve her into submission. She is still fighting with effective desperation and there is no prospect of the immediate exhaustion of her powers, which was anticipated and even predicted by the allies some time ago.

There has been, however, many evidences that the Germans want peace and that they have wanted it for over a year; but they want peace on their own terms which the allies will never grant.

On the other hand the allies set out to continue the war until Germany should be completely crushed. That eventually seems to be further off today than it was a year ago but yet the allies are firm in their determination and will brook no proposal of peace under present conditions. Thus the war goes on and is likely to continue for another year or perhaps even longer before both sides are willing to make a compromise peace. That may be based upon the restoration of the small nationalities overrun by Germany.

GUARDING BANK FUNDS

The Federal Reserve board has sent out a warning to the banks which it controls against purchasing the short term British and French treasury bonds which these governments plan to put upon the market. The reason for this step is, that those bills are not intended for early liquidation but for continuous renewals which would give them permanent extension. The board is justified in taking such action as will prevent the tying up of bank funds intended for use in American business and for taking care of short time commercial paper. In this case it is well that we have the Federal Reserve board to prevent banks from placing their funds in foreign bonds where payment would be postponed indefinitely.

DROP IN WHEAT PRICES

Already the effect of investigation has been shown in the reduction of the price of wheat in the grain pits of Chicago. It was alleged that rumors of peace in Europe caused the rapid decline in the price of wheat but on the contrary the fact was that the wheat gamblers, afraid of government retribution, fled to cover.

It will not be surprising now if unexpected supplies come in to the market and if we hear reports from various sources explaining the situation by offering any other reason than the right one. The speculators have found out that the government is at their heels and they can no longer continue to fix prices and corner the food supply with impunity.

AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs feel fine.

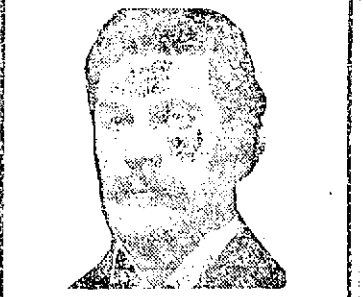

Do some foods you eat hit back-taste good, but work badly, ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic put this down: Pape's Diapiesin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so quick, so certain, so effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regularizes your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back. You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach—digests just everything your stomach gets stuck, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

The Beverly Times insists that some people's idea of proving a political argument is to offer to bet $5 and then snatch out if the other fellow has the money ready.

An exchange finds that some people seem to think that a last season's automobile is about as useless as any kind of a machine, but the last season's political machine goes to the scrap heap more completely.

The Providence Journal says the lady in her box the dancing horses at the Metropolitan who attracted the attention of the society reporters by wearing a coronet of glistening coal is said to have retired purple with charcoal upon the appearance of a social rival displaying a necklace of potatoes.

Deer Jumped on Auto

The heaviest claim for deer damage ever filed in Berkshire county, was presented at the office of County Treasurer Brewster last week by George W. Grundy of Williamstown, who wants $115.50 paid him for damages he claims a deer inflicted on his automobile when it sprang from the woods and landed on the radiator of the car, which was transporting Williamstown college students from the American football game home. The deer was killed but the carcass was taken in charge by Game Warden Nichols of North Adams. Mr. Grundy says the accident was unavoidable, and as the county has farmers who damage deer to crops he thinks they should reimburse him for the damage to his car. The matter has been referred to the county commissioners.

Living Bachelors' Wit

Living Bachelor, the novelist, was on a tramping tour through New England. He discovered a chin-bearded patriarch on a roadside rock. "Fine corn," said Mr. Bachelor, "remotely, using a little filled with struggling stalks as a means of breaking the conversation." "Best in Massachusetts," said the sifter. "How do you grow that field?" asked Mr. Bachelor. "It is so very old," said the sifter. "Don't plow it," said the sifter. "When the spring thaws come, the rocks rolling down hill tear it up so that we can plant corn." "And how do you plant it?" asked Mr. Bachelor. The sifter said that he didn't plant it, really. He stood in the backyard and shot the seed in with a shotgun. "Is that true?" asked Bachelor. "Good! What now?" said the sifter.

DISEASES OF CHILDREN

I find worms one of the most common of children's diseases either as worms or stomach worms. These parasites make their presence felt through enlarged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, fever, heavy and full-twining eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red spots sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

For over 40 years Dr. T. J. King, the family doctor and Worm Expeller has been the standard remedy for worms, stomach disorders and constipation for children and adults. Dr. Wm. L. Wright of Houston, Texas, writes: "I want to say that Dr. T. J. King's Worm Expeller is a fine medicine. At all drug stores, 25c and 50c. Advance Co., Write to me."

Turned Thief in Hospital

Thomas Thornton, 17 years old, ragged and hungry, rang the bell of the Greenpoint hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., and begged for any kind of a job. He was dressed in clean clothes and but to work as an orderly. He had been on the job one hour when Jacob Geisler of 48 Diamond street, Brooklyn, and Thomas Gregory of 665 Greenwich street, Manhattan, were brought in, injured severely in the explosion of the tug Rambler. Thornton was told to undress them. He did so, and then disappeared. The internes thought the sight of the injured men had affected his nerve, but when the patients recovered sufficiently to inquire about their personal effects it was discovered Thornton's nerve was all right. With him had disappeared $32.75 which had been in Geisler's pockets and $34.75 from Gregory's clothes. Thornton had given his address as Highland, N. Y. There the police learned he had a sweetheart in Poughkeepsie. Detectives arrested him in the railroad station in Poughkeepsie where he was trying to buy two tickets for Texas. He had persuaded the girl to go away with him, they say. Now he is locked up charged with grand larceny.

Saves Dog by Circus Feat

The agile toes of Maurice, of the dancing team of Maurice and Walton, proved their strength as well as their ability to twinkle the other night when the dancer hung head downward in a New York sewer and rescued Chin Chin, the prize winning Pekinese pup owned by the dancers. When the cat taking the couple to the Century theatre drew near the curb, in old street, Chin Chin, who has a high opinion of his own importance, tried to get out first. He sprang toward the sidewalk, but missed it and splashed into a big puddle formed by the storm. Sinking with disgust he started to paddle for shore, but just then a street cleaner moved a dam of newspaper and rubbish, which held back the water, and Chin Chin was swept down a stream as swiftly rushing as Niagara and as wide as the Mississippi to him. When he was over the fall down into sewer. Maurice went to the rescue. Lifting off the manhole cover he fished for the pup with a broom, but only managed to tickle the swimming animal. Desperate with the cries of Miss Walton ringing in his ears, Maurice hooked his toes on the edge of the hole and stretched downward. Fortunately his toes held, he grasped the pup, and was hauled to the surface again, to be sprinkled generously with sewer water by the grateful fall of Chin Chin.

Aftermath

Where are the days that I loved to call summer?
Where are the maidens I met on the beach?
Tell me, I pray, where's the one I called "bummer"?
Where is the dame I considered a "peach"?
Where's the canoe I so lazily paddled?
And the old motorboat reeking with oil?
Where is the thoroughbred, well-curbed and saddled?
Where my vacation days so free from toil?
Where are the fellows I fought so at tennis?
And those near-golfers I taught how to play?
Where is my caddy I used to call Dennis?
Where are lost golf balls still lurking today?
Where are the hammocks I swung in to sleep?
And those fair damsels I held by my side?
Tell me now where are the motor trips I made?
With a sweet creature I'd hoped for my bride?
Tell me, oh, where are the "brothers" so pretty?
Where is the ocean and where is the splash?
Where now are Rosie and Sadie and Betty?
Where is the summer and where is my cash?

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

AUTOISTS ENJOYING A PROLONGED SEASON

FINE WEATHER HAS PERMITTED THE USE OF CARS INSTEAD OF STORING THEM

George R. Dana, of the Cadillac agency, reports the arrival yesterday of two new Cadillac Eight in special coloring. One is maroon, and the other a rich gray. Both are of the late models and unusually elegant. These cars, now at the Cadillac Sales and Service on East Merrimack street, are both sold and to be delivered shortly. Nevertheless more will be received soon, so all are invited to call and see these rare products of the automobile industry, while the opportunity is at hand.

As usual the V. A. French auto and taxi service are abroad of the times as shown by their display on this page regarding an automobile ride for Thanksgiving Day. This is a most appropriate way to spend a part of the holiday, when it may be done in open or closed cars as preferred.

At this particular season of the year the motorists find difficulty in starting their motors in the cold mornings. The Pitts Auto Supply is trying to offset this almost universal trouble for the auto driver by offering for sale a selection of mechanical and electric starters. This enables one to start their machine from the seat, and avoid the unpleasantness of cranking. In keeping with the business at this popular supply house the assortment of starters is not lacking in any way. The particular fancy of each person may be satisfied. Of course the Pitts Service car is at the command of any distressed auto. Many other seasons' needs are on display in great variety at this store on Hurd street.

Unusual used car values are in evidence as shown by the display on this page by George R. Dana. Cars purchased now have not seen the strains of use of winter. Prices on used cars may soon advance with the present trend of new car prices, so it is advisable to make early investigation when a value is presented.

The Lowell Motor Mart reports the following sales for the past week: Miss Rose G. Caisse, Chandler touring car; Arthur G. Dubois, Chandler touring car; Frederick Hotch, Chandler touring car; Mrs. A. Grace Tobin, Ford touring car; P. H. Gunther, Ford touring car.

Mr. Rochette, proprietor, says that there has been added interest in the Chandler car recently, due to the advance in prices which is to take place on the 1st. Many have taken advantage of the present figures. The cars carried by this automobile agency are now being displayed under much more favorable conditions at the Lowell Motor Mart annex, 433 Merrimack street.

Where formerly men argued that horse delivery was adequate to take care of their requirements, they now concede that motor delivery will not only meet growing needs but will actually make them grow. They see that while horse delivery restricts their operations to a limited zone, motor delivery, by widening the area, enables them to appeal to a greater circle of people and thus allows a choice of customers.

Auto trucks are becoming more and more each month to be the real thing in conjunction with business of all natures. Especially with the months approaching, they will be a necessity. So states George W. Morrison of the Auburn Motor Car Co., on Thorndike street. He is carrying the Republic Dispatch truck, about which he mentioned some favorable facts, including, it is a truck with a maximum of 1500 lbs., which is 500 more than any other truck at the same price; it is equipped with express body, canopy top, side curtains, glass front, electric lights, horn, generator and battery; it is a truck and not an ordinary light car; solid or pneumatic tires are optional; the motor is simple without sacrificing any desirable features; and extreme fuel economy is obtained by means of a peculiar arrangement of intake manifold. Space will not permit enumeration of all the features.

AUTOMOBILE QUESTION BOX

NOTE—In these columns every Wednesday we will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to send in questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications: Automobile Editor, Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must bear the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a chain-driven car, and occasionally one of the chains comes off. The sprockets are badly worn, but apparently not enough to account for it. How can I prevent this? G. S. K.

Ans. Evidently the chains are stretching because of wear and need tightening. You will find distance rods running from rear axle to frame. Each carries a turn-buckle, which must be turned in such a way as to lengthen the rods. Turn each one the same distance. This will remove the slack from the chain and help to prevent trouble.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Why is kerosene not used for automobiles? Kerosene is much cheaper than gasoline, and is used in farm engines. Why is it not used in an automobile engine? R. L. D.

Ans. In order to evaporate kerosene

ating facts which may be perceived upon investigation.

In connection with the auto renting business which the Auburn Motor Car Co. is operating, at present it is making a special rate for parties of six to go direct to the Billy Sunday tabernacle in Boston. Parties traveling in this way may go and return by auto, thus avoiding the rush of train and trolley and crowds, and yet be having a private party at a cost of nearly the same as making the trip in some other way. The proprietor, Geo. W. Morrison will drive the car himself. A display on this page gives the special rate.

During the ideal weather for the past few days, no doubt many motorists have prepared themselves and their cars to visit the folks at home for a Thanksgiving dinner and reunion. The roads are in good condition in most sections of the surrounding country. The many modern conveniences for traveling by auto make it most comfortable for either long or short trips.

"Service" in the motor car world is fast becoming the most potent word in the industry. There is nothing more important. It is the right arm of the business. Service is demanded by every motor car owner, no matter what make of car he uses. Good service is not necessarily free service, neither does it mean express charges and telegraph tolls. It does mean, however, reasonable charges, a square deal and as quick service as it is reasonably possible to deliver. Most dealers assume this responsibility now, and deliver the kind of service that is not only wanted, but is demanded by the motoring public.

A meeting at the Harrisonia hotel last Monday proved that the auto show plans are well under way for this event to be held in this city in January by the local dealers on a co-operative basis. The affair will be staged at either the Casino or the state armory, and no doubt will be a big boom to the trade in Lowell.

needed up right. Would like an early reply, which will be greatly appreciated.

Ans. Connect "D" of coil distributor or on magneto, 3 of coil to 3 on magneto, 5 on coil to RC on switch. Connect "A" of switch to "A" (armature) of magneto, M2 of switch to 2 on magneto. Connect B of switch to either end of battery and connect other end of battery to DC, making two wires on this terminal. This will enable you to start on battery and run on magneto.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Please answer the following questions about tires. Is it really necessary to carry a tire sleeve? Isn't a blowout patch sufficient to protect the tube? It covers the weak spot completely, so why use a tire sleeve? A. M. T.

Ans. The sleeve should always be used whenever the blowout patch is necessary. It keeps dirt from working through the cut in the tire and prevents the cut from spreading. There is a terrific strain at each end of the cut, and the sleeve, if properly applied, takes the strain off. Therefore, would suggest that you carry a sleeve and use it whenever the blowout patch is used.

Motoring Department, The Sun—What is the best way to locate a squeak? I have a disagreeable creaking around the front of my car, but am unable to locate it. I have oiled the springs thoroughly, but it still keeps up. Any suggestions would be appreciated. F. L. T.

Ans. Inject oil around every possible rubbing place of mudguard and hood. If this fails use an oil gun and go over the same parts, putting more oil into the work. This will probably locate it. If not, the trouble is in the springs, and they must be thoroughly oiled. The spring clips frequently give trouble. Remove them, jack up frame, and put graphite grease between the leaves, prying them apart with a screwdriver or cold chisel. Grease the clips and replace. If squeak persists it is where leaves are bolted together, which means that springs should be removed, taken apart, and each leaf thoroughly greased.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a 1912 Studebaker car, four-cylinder, which runs on a fifteen-mile limit, but going beyond that limit it starts to chuck and pound. By immediately turning off gas it stops. The carburetor has no needle valve or mixing chamber. Cylinder four inches in bore. The inlet manifold pipe is one and one-fourth inches in diameter. Would you prefer a Zenith or Master carburetor? H. W.

Ans. An engine which has run four years will probably have developed piston-rod, which cannot be removed except by replacing worn pistons by larger ones. However, it may be a carbon knock or loose connecting rod. Have carbon burned out and remove crank case, to inspect connecting rods. By all means install an up-to-date carburetor.

CARE OF CAR IN WINTER

"With the advent of efficient starting devices, such as the battery, convertible bodies, tonneau heaters, etc.," says H. H. Drew, service manager of the Nordyke & Marmion Co., "the all-year-round use of the high-grade motor car has become an almost universal practice. At this season a few suggestions may be in order as to the easiest and best methods of assuring the most pleasant and effective winter operation.

"As the quality of the gasoline supplied on the open market is continually decreasing, it is becoming more and more important to obtain the desired warm-weather operating conditions in the motor at all times. The automobile motor, equally as sensitive to the cold as the human organism, should have extra covering in cold weather. An ideal warm-weather operation can be secured by having the power plant and the surrounding air under the hood kept warm, as in summer. Fortunately this is comparatively easy to accomplish, since the motor is itself constantly generating heat. It is well to use a radiator cover with an adjustable opening so as to prevent a special form of carburetor is necessary which gives enough heat for the purpose. The heat is obtained by first running the engine on gasoline. This requires a special form of carburetor and although there are several on the market, none of them seem to have given general satisfaction.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Recently my engine refused to run, and I had to be towed home. I removed the magneto, but can get no spark from it. The breaker points are clear and separate the right distance. The distributor is clean and the brushes in good condition. Please tell me where you think the trouble may be and if it is anything I can fix myself. J. K. L.

Ans. Although not so stated we assume you have a high tension magneto of the usual type. The most likely spark gap, as that sometimes short-circuits the magneto. If that is all right the trouble is in the windings of the armature. These can only be rewound by an expert using the proper tools. You had better ship the magneto back to the manufacturer and have it properly overhauled.

Motoring Department, The Sun—Will you kindly publish in your valuable column a formula for obtaining the R. P. M. of a motor, when the miles per hour and final reductions are known. Also the miles per hour when the R. P. M. and final reductions are known. R. A. J.

Ans. Multiply diameter of tire by 3416 and reduce to feet. This gives circumference of wheel. Reduce miles per hour to feet per minute. Divide feet per minute by circumference of wheel, which gives R. P. M. of rear wheel. Multiply this by reduction at differential. This will give R. P. M. of motor if gears are in direct drive. To determine miles per hour, divide R. P. M. by reduction at differential and multiply by circumference of rear wheel. This gives number of feet travelled in one minute. Multiply by 60 to get feet in one hour and divide by 5280 to get miles per hour.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I find my steering is developing a few inches of lost motion, and it seems to be growing larger. Is this anything serious? If it shows wear in the steering gear, what is the best way to take it up? A. M. R.

Ans. Any looseness developing in the steering gear should be attended to at once, as your life depends upon the steering gear being in proper condition. Loosen lock nut at top of steering gear and screw down on adjustment until it binds. Fasten lock nut. Then see if other connections are working loose and tighten them. Make sure that all nuts and cotter pins are properly secured.

Motoring Department, The Sun—I have a Standard Dayton car, 1916 model. Would like to know how to connect it up so as to start on batteries, and after started to run on magneto. I have a Splitdorf four-point switch No. 71, points marked "M", "M2", and "S". Splitdorf coil marked "3", "D", "S", magneto model have been everything tested out and found to be O. K., but cannot get it con-excess cooling in extreme weather. It is also well to see that the carburetor has a hot-air connection to the intake manifold, so that the cold air is pre-heated when going into the carburetor. The newer cars are also provided with an air-choking device which gives an over-rich carburetor mixture to aid in starting and rapidly warming up the motor.

With regard to the quality of gasoline, in some localities the gasoline commonly offered for distribution is of poorer quality than in others, but it is now almost always possible to obtain a higher test gasoline, which generally speaking, will prove more efficient in cold weather than a low test gasoline. In some cases a very light grade of fluid known as "Casing Head Gasoline" is used, which has such a low boiling point that it cannot be handled in an ordinary carburetor and it should be avoided.

"The bad effects produced on motors in cold weather on account of low test gasoline are difficult starting, missing fire, inefficient running for some time after the engine is started, fouling of the spark plugs, and the consequent pressure of gasoline mixed with the oil in the base on account of condensation in the cylinders. On this account extra care should be taken to see that the oil base is frequently drained and refilled with fresh oil. In very cold weather this should be done at least every 1600 miles. The grade of oil to use in cold weather is a medium heavy grade.

"To prevent freezing the water-circulating system we recommend simply the addition of either denatured or wood alcohol to the water. In order to mix a solution which will not freeze up to ten degrees below zero, remove two gallons of water from the circulating system and replace it with two gallons of alcohol. It must, of course, be borne in mind that alcohol evaporates somewhat more rapidly than water, so that in order to keep the solution at its original strength it is desirable when refilling during winter weather to use half water and half alcohol."

ADVENT OF THE AUTO

Social as Well as Business Advantages—Brings Rural Relations Closer

The inhabitants of the cities are well acquainted with the changed conditions as the result of the advent of the automobile. They realize its social advantages as well as its business and pleasure achievements, but as a whole, they do not appreciate the transformation it has brought about in rural communities, especially in relation to the women on the farms. J. J. Cole, president of the Cole Motor Car company, of Indianapolis, who has made a careful study of farm-owned cars, in an informal talk recently, referred to the motor car as the most important factor in making life more living, from a pleasure standpoint, for the isolated country people.

"The general use of the automobile has given the farmer practically all the advantages of city life without taking him away from his life-long occupation," declared Mr. Cole. "It was but a few years ago that the farmer, if he cared to enjoy city school privileges for his children, and the other attractions of city life, had to retire from farming, move to town and take up some line of endeavor for which he was usually untrained. All of which, generally meant for him a financial loss. Today, however, the automobile has brought him to the very doors of the city and the expenditure for the car is trivial compared with the monetary loss which would be sustained if he were forced to give up farming entirely and move to town. The motor car has rendered the farmer's wife and daughter. Intercommunication with neighbors and townspeople, by means of the automobile, has given them a new lease of life. No longer do they spend all their time in the seclusion of their homes. In the evenings there are friends to visit, meetings of women's clubs to attend, social affairs in the public schools and community halls and, if nothing more interesting presents itself, there is always a delightful and restful ride over eight or ten miles of country roads.

"In former years, the horse and carriage, or horse and wagon, was the only means of conveyance for the farmer and his family. If the wife wanted to go to town in the afternoon the horses were generally working in the fields. At night, a trip of six or seven miles each way was impractical because, after the chores were done, it was too late for starting on a jaunt of that nature with such slow moving vehicles. Now, we and the automobile are available during the day for the women folks, while the men are at their work, and at the service of the whole family in the evening.

"All of this means that on the farm, where a motor car is owned, the women of the family are no longer drawing their life away. They are mingling with friends in and out of town and they are in a position to learn how to manage their affairs better, how to get things done more easily and in less time. In fact, the automobile is transforming them into modern women in every sense of the word.

HELPFUL HINTS

Too much emphasis cannot be placed on lubrication. More troubles can be traced to lack of lubrication than to any other cause. Study your lubrication chart and follow it carefully.

The fumes from a storage battery on charge are inflammable, and it is by no means safe to bring a naked flame near a cell that is "gassing" freely. Battery repair shops and charging stations usually are careful in this respect, knowing by practical experience that the gas can be ignited.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER MAKES RESCUE

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 29.—The Norwegian steamer Borghild, which arrived at the quarantine station today from Oron, Alaska, brought 72 shipwrecked persons from the American schooner Georgietta which sailed from New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 12, for the Cape Verde islands. Among them were two small children whose mother had died on the voyage. The Borghild, which had lost part of her cargo, was detained at quarantine for fumigation.

The Borghild came up to the Georgietta about 4 a. m. last Saturday, some 240 miles east of Bermuda. The schooner was dismasted and her decks were awash. The people of whom 16 members of the crew, were all safely taken aboard the Borghild, but not until after an all-day fight with a heavy sea by the lifeboat crew of the steamer. Most of the passengers and crew of the Georgietta are Portuguese.

After everybody had been transferred to the Borghild the schooner was scuttled and set on fire to prevent her becoming a menace to navigation.

Capt. Christensen of the Borghild, explaining the absence of his records, said it had been carried away in a storm.

LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR LIBERTY STATUE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Mayor Mitchell today promised a delegation representing the striking local street railway men to talk their situation over with President Wilson when he comes here Saturday to dedicate the new lighting system for the Statue of Liberty.

The delegation was made up of officers and counsel of the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees of America. The strike began here about three months ago and was virtually broken by the companies through individual agreements with their men.

EMERGENCY BONUS THE VERY LATEST

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 29.—Notices signed by the executive committee, James Logan, William O. Day and Louis H. Buckley, were posted in the factories of the United States Knives Co. today announcing an "emergency bonus" to employees of 10 per cent. The executive committee announced the increase is made because of the abnormal increase in cost of living. The bonus will be paid in 15 days after the 15th of each following month until further notice. An additional bonus of 2 1/2 per cent will be paid to those employees who have lost no time during the month. The factories affected are six in Massachusetts, two in Connecticut, each in Massachusetts, Ill., Indianapolis, Cincinnati and San Francisco. Twenty-five hundred employees will benefit.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT AT REHOBOTH

REHOBOTH, Nov. 29.—Henry T. Murphy of Middleboro was killed and his niece, Natalie Murphy, also of Middleboro, probably fatally injured when their automobile skidded and overturned here today. The girl, brother, and Murphy was seriously injured. Miss Natalie Murphy, mother of the children, who was a member of the party, escaped with slight bruises. At a hospital in Taunton to which the children were removed physicians said the girl's skull was fractured.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

MODERATE IRREGULARITY IN EARLY DEALINGS

EFFECT OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD'S ADDITION APPARENT AGAIN TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Wall Street, 1939 a. m. Further moderate irregularity attended today's early dealings. Decline for exceeding advances. Trading was of the same cautious character as that of the preceding session. Professional operators, however, knowing of additions to their commitments for the short account. Coppers, equipments, motors and other shares of less specific description were lower by fractions to a point, with two points for Ohio Gas. Prices in mining shares made moderate improvement. The movement in that quarter being led by Reading, Union Pacific and Rock Island.

The better tendency in rails encouraged many other issues of that division, notably Baltimore & Annapolis, Erie and Western, Chicago & North Western, Santa Fe, Denver & Rio Grande, and others. Western and Southern railway, U. S. Steel threw off the pressure of the previous day, rising more than a point with increased firmness in coppers. Anaconda featuring that group. Shipping shares made moderate improvement with Mexican Central, and the paper issues. The effect of the federal reserve board's addition was again apparent in the relative heaviness of international bonds. U. S. Steel and Rock Island were strongest and most active of the better known issues during the mid-session, while such specialties as Texas Co., Manning Power and Pittsburgh Coal showed extreme gains of 4 to 5 points.

REMARKABLE STATEMENT IN REGARD TO GERMAN PEACE TERMS

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The Rhenish and Westphalian Gazette in an article on the principle of German peace, declares that the reconciliation of Germany and her western enemies is impossible, according to an Amsterdam despatch to Reuters. The paper declares that it believes Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg recognizes this, adding:

"Our ultimate aim is to push through to the west and the ocean whatever offers resistance be crushed." Referring to the Balkans, the Gazette says:

"What the victor gets he holds."

In respect to the last German colonies the Gazette is quoted as saying:

"If we do not succeed in reconquering them the French provinces are twice ours. Colonies and we will take our compensation out of France. Let us daily tell the French that every foot we conquer is ours. We will not waste words about Belgium. We need access to the channel and we need Antwerp. Whoever makes Belgium may fetch it from us."

The Gazette concludes that England is more assailable than Russia and that London can be destroyed easier than Moscow because, it says, Moscow costs blood and London only torpedoes.

"We have no fantastic dreams," says the Gazette, "of conquering the world. German imperialism is not yet ripe for mastering and governing a world empire."

We neither can nor will destroy the British empire, but the minimum necessary for German peace is the complete beating down of France in the west and the prestige of the German flag on all the seas."

An Amsterdam despatch to the Times refers to the Gazette's article as by far the most remarkable that has yet appeared in regard to German peace terms. The despatch adds that the Gazette represents great industrial magnates who, "as recent executive changes show, are making their influence increasingly felt."

Annexation is also advocated by Dr. Jaeger, a member of the central party in the Reichstag, who, writing in the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger, insists that the German blood shed in Belgium since 1914 must not have been shed in vain.

"Belgium must be our guarantee," writes Dr. Jaeger, "for a good part of the world."

Respectfully yours,
William D. T. Trefry,
Tax Commissioner.

TAX PROFITS OF LARGE
STORES IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 29.—The senate, which is debating the income tax bill, has adopted a clause, taxing the profits of large stores of which the annual turnover exceeds 2,000,000 francs. The tax is one per cent on profits of turnover from 2,000,000 to 5,000,000, two per cent up to 10,000,000, three from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000, four from 20,000,000 to 50,000,000, five above 50,000,000.

Amendment proposing an all-round tax of 2 per cent was rejected.

The Gately Co., 209-211 Middlesex street, will be open this evening to accommodate the holiday trade.

It was reported at the police station last night that a white horse belonging to the Gage Co. had strayed away from the police of Lowell and surrounding towns were asked to be on the lookout for the animal.

The convention of District Knights of Pythias lodges in this district is scheduled to be held in Lawrence on December 18 and will be preceded by a monster parade if the present plans are carried out. Butler Ames, commander of Lowell has signified his willingness to march in the parade.

PLURALITY REDUCED

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 29.—The plurality for Wilson for Marshall voters in New Hampshire has been reduced from 63 to 56 by revised and certified returns from ward 12, Manchester and the town of Grotton. Hughes and Fairbanks are shown to have received 307 instead of 301 votes in the Manchester ward and 24 instead of 23 in the town of Grotton.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Plainer fare will mark the menus of the diet squad of the Chicago health department during the remainder of the attempt to demonstrate how to live well at reasonable prices. The second week of which began today, Dr. John Dill Robertson, health commissioner, expressed the hope that in the final week the cost of feeding the 12 dieters might be cut to about 25 cents a day per person. The cost for the first week was 33 1/2 cents, exclusive of allowances for fuel, light, heat, service and other overhead expenses. Only two dozen eggs were used in the first week, these costing 40 and 44 cents a dozen. Thirty-five quarts of milk at 9 cents were used, chiefly for cooking. Economies were made, it was pointed out, by purchasing in large amounts, thus saving fractional weights and "split nickel" charges, although all goods were purchased in down town retail stores.

Dr. Robertson said he expects to cut down the daily ration slightly and to substitute less fattening and less costly foods, pointing out that in the first week the members of the squad made a total gain of 2 1/2 pounds and that the average had increased from 152.08 to 154.31.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Congress will be asked for another $350,000 appropriation for physical valuation of interstate railroads, with a view to completion of all field operations in three years, from next January and windup of all the work a year later. Charles A. Prosser, director of physical valuation, announced today. Mr. Prosser said the total cost will be kept within the original estimate of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Valuation experts are at work in various parts of the country. Field work has been completed on the Boston & Maine, Rock Island & Peru, Marquette, the Union Pacific lines west of Salt Lake City and the Southern Pacific, except its New Mexico and Texas lines, and is nearly finished on the New Haven, Great Northern and Illinois Central.

NOT YET IDENTIFIED

The body of the man found in the woods at North Chelmsford Monday afternoon and thought to be William Horne has not been positively identified as yet. The remains are at the rooms of Undertaker Geo. W. Healey in Branch street. Owing to the decomposition of the body about the only way that identification can be made will be by the clothing of the man and the articles found in the pockets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The shortage of office and errand boys has become so acute here that many business firms are employing elderly men for the work usually left to youngsters. The difficulty of getting office boys is attributed to the present boom in business, demands of want ads and window signs of "boys wanted" testify to the situation.

The head of one of the largest printing and publishing houses in New York which now does the most work directly upon men of color, said that the elderly office boys are not a new invention. He attributes the shortage of boys largely to the fact that many parents who formerly put their boys at work after the completion of a grammar school are now giving them a better education.

FEWER HOURS AND MORE PAY

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The W. H. McElwain Co., shoe manufacturers, with plants in this city and New Hampshire, today announced an increase in wages and reduction in working hours for its 600 employees. The wage advance will amount to 10 per cent, it was stated, and factories will operate on a basis of 32 instead of 35 hours a week. The readjustment becomes effective Dec. 4.

BASEBALLS GOING UP

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Baseballs will cost from 10 to 15 per cent more next season than last, depending upon the market prices of the materials local sporting goods dealers announced today. It was also announced that the price of golf clubs will be advanced from 30 to 50 per cent next season.

It was said that the regulation baseball used by the big leagues, which has been sold for $1.25 probably will bring $1.50.

SUNK BY GUNFIRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A report on the torpedoing of the steamer Chemung was received here today by Harris, Magill & Co., agents for the ship, in a cablegram from her master, Capt. Dury, saying "Chemung sunk by gunfire and torpedoed by Austrian submarine 14 miles east of Cape Hatteras, 20th. All safe. Address care American consul, Valencia."

ANOTHER EGG BOYCOTT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 29.—The Providence Housewives league today declared a boycott on eggs for four weeks. The league has been selling here at from 10 to 15 cents a dozen.

ELECTION IN MAINE

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29.—The official vote of the presidential election in Maine, as announced at the session of the governor and council today, was as follows:

Hughes and Fairbanks (republican), 49,562; Wilson and Marshall (democratic), 64,118; Benson and Kirkpatrick (socialist), 2184; Hardy and Landish (prohibitionist), 855; republican plurality, 5388.

The newspaper returns gave Hughes and Fairbanks 62,042; Wilson and Marshall 63,141; republican plurality, 4550. The democratic vote predominated in Androscoggin, Hancock, Knox, Penobscot, Waldo and York counties.

RED CROSS RECEIVES AN UNUSUAL REQUEST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Austria-Hungary has asked the American Red Cross to discontinue relief work in Belgrade and in other parts of northern Serbia conquered by the Teutons.

Monday in December, and it meets then, but adjournment is taken immediately until the following day to show respect for deceased members. This year the senate mourns the death of Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas, who was president pro tempore of the senate.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was lately injured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I refused to have one. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 1242 Broadway Avenue, Manhattan, N. Y. I will send out this notice and show it to any others who are afflicted who may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was lately injured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I refused to have one. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. I will send out this notice and show it to any others who are afflicted who may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

THANKSGIVING EXERCISES IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Appropriate exercises in commemoration of Thanksgiving day were held in the parochial and public schools this afternoon. In some of the schools on account of the hall being used for class room, the exercises were held in the various classrooms, but nevertheless proved as interesting and enjoyable.

Lincoln School
At the Lincoln school the children gathered in the assembly hall at 2 o'clock and after the ordinary salute to the flag the proclamation was read and declamations and songs were given by the pupils. A feature of the afternoon's program was phonograph selections given under the direction of the principal.

Washington School
At the Washington school each class had a program of its own, which included the reading of the proclamation and literary and musical numbers. The same applied to the Greenhale and Franklin schools.

GREENHALL SCHOOL
Appropriate Thanksgiving exercises were held during the evening session of the Greenhale school last evening. The program included songs, readings and recitations and was as follows:

Piano solo, Mary Asselin.
Reading—"The Pilgrim's Story," Miss Rogers' Class.
Song, "Oh Canada," Miss Devine's, Miss Crowley's and Miss Merrill's Classes.
Entertainment by Miss MacBrayne's Class.
Recitation, "Thanksgiving," Song, "The Landing of the Pilgrims," Quotations, "The Feast Time of the Year," Piano duet.
Recitation, "Birth of Our Thanksgiving Day," Mary Asselin, Aurora Beaupre, Anna Daigle, Claire Harnois, Julia Kelly, Maud Latulippe, Rose Lefebvre, Catherine Melville, Gladys Monette, Mary (Blonde), Alice Rivers, Jeanette Vaillancourt.

Song, "Polish National Song," Miss Edith's Class.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION
At the Immaculate Conception school the commemoration of Thanksgiving was most pleasing to the pupils and interesting to the audiences. In the school hall were gathered the primary grades to share in musical numbers, instrumental and vocal. The variety, having a large part in the pleasing program, was as much enjoyed as were the appropriate recitations. The grammar grades held exercises in respective class rooms where the following programs were very creditably rendered.

Seventh Grade
Reading—"The First Thanksgiving," Song—"The Cross and the Flag," Recitation—"The Landing of the Pilgrims," America, Class.
Ninth Grade

WILL INTRODUCE MAN POWER BILL

BERLIN, Nov. 28, via London, Nov. 28.—The man power bill, providing for compulsory service of civilians for war purposes, will be introduced to the reichstag tomorrow with a speech by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, pointing out the necessity of this sweeping measure. The chancellor probably will give some assurance as to the way in which the law will be enforced—a subject in regard to which various parties in the reichstag still cherish anxieties.

The bill as introduced undoubtedly will differ considerably from the draft recently published. The principle of the measure, that all able-bodied males between the ages of 18 and 40 not serving with the colors are liable to labor service in the interest of the fatherland, will be unchanged, but it is uncertain even at this late hour just what form the control of the reichstag over the execution of the law will assume.

This uncertainty would result normally in extending debates in the reichstag, but with General von Linder, first quartermaster general, declaring that the measure is an incontestable necessity, the parliament is expected to surmount objections and make quick work of the measure.

The subject of equipment for the home army in the way of the power, heavy machines and tools for the production of munitions also will be settled quickly. The authorities are now taking a census of all suitable machinery and tools in the empire and wherever these are not being employed to the best advantage they will be transferred to new munition factories.

HOT AIR MERCHANT GAS COLLECTOR
VENICE, via Paris, Nov. 28.—An individual calling himself Prince Edward of Bourbon, pretender to the throne of Albania, has been condemned to a two years imprisonment for defrauding banks in the war zone. He is said to be a gas collector of Milan named Carl Loris.

GREEK CROWN COUNCIL
LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Greek crown council has voted to support the government in opposing the allies' demands for the surrender of arms and munitions, according to an Athens despatch to Reuters of yesterday.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 28.—Cornell won the major league cross country championship recently over the new York Rock country. While its representatives were taking up the season's record of 28 points, losing only one of the 28 matches, Cornell had a pack of well-trained runners that overpowered for the title and covered the six and one-half mile course in the last time of 35 minutes 22.5 seconds. A group of hundred runners, Cornell, led by Charles H. Stinson, won the Western Union race, but a word burning, the big Cornell runner, came into the race again and performed the title which it lost to Maine last year because its team was the best balanced in the field. There was no member, however, who was in the same class with Overton, but all of them ran well and finished close enough to the leader to bring to the Cornell university its fifteenth championship title since the race was inaugurated in 1899. The race was the most spectacular ever held in this city. The field was the largest, and the close finishes and the nature of the course gave the big crowd of spectators many thrills and plenty of opportunity to referee.

Overton's victory was anticipated by followers of the sport. His victory in this event last year and his great performances since then stamped him as one of the best hill and dale runners in the country. And that he was in his best condition there was no doubt. He had trained faithfully for the contest and Johnny Mark, his trainer, had decided before the race that he was never better in his career. Group photo on left shows cross country team starting; one on right Overton of Yale, the individual champion.

AMUNDSEN, SOUTH POLE FINDER WILL TRY TO FLY PART WAY TO NORTH POLE

ROALD AMUNDSEN AND THE FRAM

Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer who discovered the South pole, arrived in New York on have a 240 horsepower engine and three masts with fore and aft sails. I will have a crew of ten men. My plans are to follow the coast of Siberia until the ice breaks up and then begin to drift toward the pole. I expect the trip will take from three to five years. If the flow takes the drifters, I think it does we will come out of the ice between Spitzbergen and Greenland, thus making almost a complete circle.

"My object in taking an aeroplane is to fly to the North pole from the nearest point that we pass on the ship, which I suppose will be about 100 miles away. This should be covered in a two hours' flight, and I would stay twenty-four hours to make observations and then fly back.

"My object is not to find the pole, because that has already been done. I wish to make observations of the ocean currents and air currents in order to complete the meteorological records and make it easier to predict weather conditions in other parts of the world. If you know the air currents at the poles it makes it easier to estimate the air currents in other parts of the earth. I obtained some observations of the air currents at the South pole on my expedition when it was discovered."

Alan R. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America, said that the club would be glad to co-operate with Captain Amundsen in every way to make a success of the expedition. Pictures show Amundsen and the Fram, the ship he used on his successful South pole expedition in 1911.

The Scandinavian-American liner Frederick VIII, from Copenhagen to purchase an aeroplane to assist him in his next trip to the arctic regions in July, 1918. The explorer wished it to be clearly understood that he did not intend to make the trip in an airship, as had been stated erroneously in some publications. The aeroplane would be taken on the ship to make the last hundred miles to the pole.

Captain Amundsen's hair is white, and his face is bronzed and weathered from many years of exposure to wind, sun and sea, but his eyes seemed so steady and bright as they were years ago, and he walked down the pier at Hoboken with the springing, rolling gait of a mariner.

I intend to leave Norway in July, 1918," Captain Amundsen said, "in an auxiliary schooner of 500 tons, which is now under construction. She will ing when she awoke. She partook of a light breakfast and ten minutes later was taken suddenly ill. The family physician was summoned, but despite his efforts, she passed away a few minutes later.

Mrs. Keyes was born in this city and had resided here all her life. She was a devoted attendant of St. Patrick's church and in her younger days she was recognized as a most industrious worker for church and charitable affairs. She was a kind hearted Christian lady whose sympathies went out to the poor and the needy in unfeigned measure. Her loss will be felt keenly by those who were intimately acquainted with her and particularly by those who have benefited by her acts of charity.

Deceased is survived by three sons, Henry J., Charles P. and Patrick Keyes; four daughters, Mrs. S. K. Johnson, Miss Nellie A. Keyes, Mrs. Margaret Sanders and Miss Alice P. Keyes.

ROBERT UNGLAUB DEAD
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 28.—Robert A. Unglaub, manager of the Fargo, N. D., Northwestern league baseball club and former major league player, died here today as the result of an accident last Monday. Unglaub was crushed by machinery at the Pennsylvania railroad shops where he was employed as a machinist during the off season.

ELMIRA COLLEGE PRESIDENT
ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Dr. John Balcan Shaw was today formally inaugurated president of Elmira college for women. The ceremony was attended by prominent educators of the state and nation. Dr. Shaw succeeds the late Rev. Dr. A. Cameron Mackenzie.

ADJUSTMENT OF EXCHANGE
LONDON, Nov. 28.—It is understood that a meeting is being held today at the Bank of England of the American charge all arrangements for the adjustment of exchange. The officials declined any statement for the present.

MATRIMONIAL
Cleary—Townsend
Mr. Walter A. Cleary and Miss Mellicie A. Townsend, both well known young people of this city, were united in marriage in the rectory of St. Peter's church at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. D. J. Keeler, Pa. D. pastor. Miss Mary McQuinn was the bridemaid and the best man was Mr. William P. O'Brien. After the marriage the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 751 Central street, where a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Cleary received many beautiful gifts. After a brief wedding tour the happy couple will reside at 52 Perkins street, Somerville.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHES
The regular Thanksgiving morning service will be held tomorrow in St. Anne's and St. John's Episcopal churches. At St. Anne's Rev. Appleton Grinnell will preach the sermon and the choir will sing. The service will be held at 10 o'clock. Rev. Grinnell will preach at the service in St. John's church which will begin at 9:30 o'clock. The choir will also be present.

GEORGE SHIPWAY DEAD
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 28.—George Shipway, statistician, secretary of the World's Sunday School association, is dead at his home in Birmingham, Eng., according to information received here by H. J. Heinz, chairman of the association. He was one of the most prominent Sunday school workers in Europe.

SHORTAGE OF GIRLS
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 28.—The high cost of materials and a shortage of girls for the plants has created a serious situation for Pittsburgh candy makers, who declare the supply is rapidly diminishing. One of the largest plants in the country located here has practically closed down through inability to secure enough help.

DEALERS SELL ROTTEN FRUIT IN LOWELL

A number of local fruit dealers and grocers are selling rotten fruit and nuts, according to Frederick L. Marion, Inspector of food and drugs for the state, and this morning he applied to Judge Thomas J. Enright of the local police court for warrants against these men, but the court suspended action in order to publicly notify these dealers and give them a chance to be more careful in the future. According to Mr. Marion, who has been purchasing nuts and fruit in various stores during the past week, between 20 and 30 per cent of what were sold him were not fit to sell.

At the opening of this morning's session Judge Enright, addressing the newspapermen, said that complaints for warrants had been made against a number of fruit dealers and grocers who are selling nuts and fruit that are decayed. He said he wished to give these dealers a chance to be more careful but that if any further complaints were made he would issue warrants for their arrest in court. Judge Enright right told Inspector Marion to report to him within a week whether or not there is any improvement in local conditions.

There is also a law contained in section 16, chapter 5 of chapter 75 of the pure food laws under which prosecution can be brought.

Inspector Marion visited a number of places during the week and in conversation with a representative of The Sun said that of the nuts he had purchased between 20 and 30 per cent were decayed, principally English walnuts, almonds and chestnuts. He said he reported the matter to the judge with the idea of correcting the evil.

The law relative to violations of this kind is contained in section one, chapter 83 of the acts of 1913, which reads as follows:

"Whoever sells or offers for sale any decayed or unwholesome carcass, meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions of any kind, except when packed in such a manner that upon reasonable inspection the condition of the contents thereof cannot be ascertained without making the condition of the thing sold or offered for sale fully known to the buyer, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $200, by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

The members of the Cambridge board of assessors testified before Judge Dana this forenoon in the case of George L. Brackett vs. the city of Cambridge, an action by which the plaintiff seeks to have his 1915 taxes abated. The assessors described the property involved and told of giving a hearing to Mr. Brackett in December and later refusing the abatement. The plaintiff paid his tax bill in 1915 under protest for excessive valuation. The evidence in the case was completed this afternoon.

In the session with jury arguments were made before Judge Keating in the case of James McGee vs. George L. Brackett and the city of Cambridge. The plaintiff in this case sued for $5000 for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained in an accident in the plant of the defendant company on May 1, 1912. The case was given to the jury this afternoon.

The trial of the case of James McGee vs. Antonio Sampanikos, both of Lowell, was opened before Judge Keating this afternoon. The suit is for the conversion of personal property alleged to be worth about $1520. The plaintiff includes the stock and equipment of a Market street tonic store.

The jury waived session of court, which opened in this city a week ago Monday, was adjourned this afternoon until next May. But four cases were tried during the trial.

CONTRACTS FOR COAST DEFENSE SUBMERSIBLES
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Secretary Daniels today awarded contracts for 27 coast defense and two 500-ton fast submersibles. Eighteen coast defense submersibles went to the Electric Boat Co., at $697,000 each, six to the Lake Torpedo Boat Co., at $634,000. Three to California Shipbuilding Co., on Lake designs at $625,000. One fast submersible went to the Electric Boat Co., at $1,195,000 and the other to the Lake Co., at $1,195,000.

INJURED AT READING CO.
Charles Walker, residing in Mission Place, Westville, sustained a dislocation of the right elbow while at work at the plant of the Lowell Reading Co. in South Lowell shortly before noon today. He was taken in the ambulance to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

ADJUSTMENT OF EXCHANGE

Brackett vs. the city of Cambridge, an action by which the plaintiff seeks to have his 1915 taxes abated. The assessors described the property involved and told of giving a hearing to Mr. Brackett in December and later refusing the abatement. The plaintiff paid his tax bill in 1915 under protest for excessive valuation. The evidence in the case was completed this afternoon.

In the session with jury arguments were made before Judge Keating in the case of James McGee vs. George L. Brackett and the city of Cambridge. The plaintiff in this case sued for $5000 for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained in an accident in the plant of the defendant company on May 1, 1912. The case was given to the jury this afternoon.

The trial of the case of James McGee vs. Antonio Sampanikos, both of Lowell, was opened before Judge Keating this afternoon. The suit is for the conversion of personal property alleged to be worth about $1520. The plaintiff includes the stock and equipment of a Market street tonic store.

The jury waived session of court, which opened in this city a week ago Monday, was adjourned this afternoon until next May. But four cases were tried during the trial.

CHEMUNG SUNK WITH OLD GLORY FLYING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Official report on the destruction of the American steamer Chemung by a German submarine, was received by the state department late yesterday from the American consul at Valencia, Spain. He said all on board had been landed safely.

The case appears to be similar to the destruction of the American ship William P. Frye and the Lelanwa, both carrying contraband, damages for which are to be awarded by diplomatic negotiation. As there was no loss of life, the apparent violation of Germany's pledges, the case is not regarded as alarming.

In the long argued case of the Frye, Germany agreed that an American ship carrying contraband, and sunk because a submarine did not get her into port, should be paid for the loss. The amount of damages is thought to be the only subject for negotiations in the present case.

FLYING STARS AND STRIPES
PARIS, Nov. 29.—(Censored)—A Madrid despatch by wireless announces the arrival at Valencia of the crew of the American steamer Chemung, torpedoed in the Mediterranean by a German submarine. The commander gave the crew only a few minutes to abandon the vessel, not allowing them even to take their money and papers. The submarine towed the lifeboats in which the crew were placed to within five miles of the coast, where it abandoned them. The Chemung went down with the stars and stripes floating at her mast.

THEREKS LIKED FINE GARMENTS

Much Valuable Clothing

Was Revealed by Inventory Yesterday

Property of Alleged Bank Defaulter and His Wife Examined

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The inventory of the personal effects of Edward Therek, the alleged National Shawmut bank defaulter, and of his wife, Charlotte, who is charged with aiding and abetting her husband, was made in the office of United States Marshal Mitchell yesterday afternoon at the federal building.

In addition to valuable clothing there was tucked away in the suit case used by Therek a novel by Richard W. Chambers entitled "The Fighting Chance." One of the pages was turned down because the story appealed to the reader. It was the "confession" in which the hero wanted to be the best in his country.

Prior to the opening of the trunks Attorney H. F. Callahan protested on the ground that they had been examined in Florida and that it would not serve any good purpose to repeat the operation. He also claimed that the contents were the personal property of the defendants.

The marshal had previously conferred with Daniel A. Shea of the United States attorney's office and informed Mr. Callahan that the trunks had been legally turned over to him by the deputy marshal from Florida and that he was welcome to witness the inventory required by law.

The trunks revealed a wealth of fine clothing in which women's apparel predominated, worth, it is estimated, not less than $1500. About all the articles bore the names of New York and Washington stores, but some of Mrs. Therek's were stamped with the letter C, from which the observers tried in vain to deduce her name before she was married.

That Mrs. Therek has a taste for dainty frocks, fur coats and trimmings was shown by the half-dozen fine gowns of pink, purple and green in the wardrobe trunk, and there were two costly suits of clothing, the property of Therek, with four pairs of shoes of the very latest make and as many pairs of the most expensive women's shoes, some costing $15, for Mrs. Therek.

There were also silk undershirts, galore, enough collars and neckties to start a small business, and a considerable number of toilet articles, house clothing and a fine assortment of dainty hats that made the feminine eyes twinkle.

Coupled with the clothing is the automobile, which cost $1600, in which the Thereks made their trip from the south, watches and other articles of jewelry held by the federal authorities at Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., together with odds and ends, and an estimate of an expenditure of $5000 is consequently in the trunks and suit cases was of the finest material. Some of the gowns cost at least $200 and the seal-skin coat must have cost close to $500.

After the examination the trunk was re-packed and locked and the keys handed to John Mitchell.

Mrs. Therek was bailed Monday night. Her sureties were reduced to $5000 through the efforts of her attorney. She is stopping with friends, where Mr. Callahan said last evening that he had little hope of securing bail for Therek as the government sticks to $20,000 as the lowest.

While the deputy marshals were examining the clothing, Frederick P. Schmidt, special agent of the department of justice, examined the wardrobe trunk and a shipping tag, "Fred Therek, Miami, Fla." and was valued at $2000, according to the tag, was put on it when it was shipped from Washington to Miami. Nothing suggesting loot was found.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, prepared a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MASS MEETING IN BOSTON

Deportation by the Germans Is Denounced as Slavery

Storey and Matthews Demand Drastic Action By Nation

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—At a great mass meeting in Tremont Temple last evening to protest against the deportation of Belgians by Germany Hon. Storey and Matthews caused a tremendous outburst of applause when he said:

"Our consciences have been stifled and our mouths closed too long. It is time for us now to speak out and dare to tell the truth. Let us say to the Belgians, to the Germans, to the world—we are not neutral! We cannot longer be neutral! We ought not to be neutral!"

"We owe it to the Belgians; we owe it to ourselves, and we owe it to Germany to say that the time has come for us to take our stand on the side of right and throw our influence against the crimes which are now being committed by Germany against civilization."

All of the speakers called on the United States to act—to protest—against the deportation and to demand that the United States should like to have Germany notified that these practices cut her off from intercourse with other civilized nations and that unless they are stopped we will have nothing more to do with her."

Slavery Says Matthews

"Deportation is the word used by the apologists of German methods in this country," said Hon. Nathan Matthews, "but they know that the thing itself is nothing more nor less than slavery."

"This conduct of the temporary conquerors of Belgium, more than any of their misdeeds in the past two years has aroused the indignation and resentment of mankind."

"In the last captivity of the Jews only 8000 able-bodied men were carried into captivity by Nebuchadnezzar; but Mr. Vandervelde, the Belgian minister of justice, tells us that more than 300,000 Belgians have already been deported, including men of every age and condition, who are gathered up, herded and numbered like cattle, and taken as captives into other provinces in northern France and Germany, where they are forced to perform all kinds of labor men who can be released for military work."

HE STOLE COAL TO COOK MOTHER'S BREAKFAST

HAVERHILL, Nov. 29.—Higher prices for coal have already affected the poor of this city and greater vigilance is being kept on cars of coal in the city.

William Barnett, aged 15, was arrested this morning for taking three shovelfuls of coal from a consignment in the Hale street yards owned by Henry L. Taylor & Co.

In court, Judge Winn said that the boy had had nothing to do with the coal, but when he got up at 5:30 and he had gone out to find stray wood or coal. The case was dismissed, the judge not wanting to give the boy a record.

Later in the day David Kasades was arrested by Patrolman Adams, who was in plain clothes, and when Mrs. Louise Poland, who thought Adams was taking the coal away from the boy for his own use, interfered, she was arrested also. In the confusion Kasades escaped, but was caught later.

Frank Poirier and Arthur Toro were also arrested and charged with the larceny of several baskets of coal.

THE WOMAN'S ALLIANCE HEARD TWO SPEAKERS

The Lowell branch, Women's Alliance, heard two interesting speakers yesterday afternoon in the series of historic sketches of some of the churches of the denomination. Mrs. A. R. Hussey spoke on the First Unitarian church of Baltimore over 200 years ago. Mrs. Hussey was pastor for several years. Miss Mary Howland followed sketched the history of All Souls' church, New York city, which was founded in 1819.

EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN
TOKYO, Nov. 29.—Considerable damage has been caused by an earthquake in middle Japan. Many houses were destroyed in Kobe, Osaka and Kyoto. The railway station at Kyoto was damaged and several pedestrians were hurt by falling walls and roofs in that town and in Kobe.

WILSON WILL HELP BELGIANS

New Representations to

Be Made to German Government

The Administration is Seriously Exercised Over the Matter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—New representations are about to be made to the German government by the United States concerning the deportation of Belgians for labor in Germany.

What form they shall take has not been determined, but it became known last night that the administration is seriously exercised over the matter and is preparing for its next step with great deliberation, hoping to make it effective without straining the relations between the two countries.

American charge d'affaires at Berlin recently took up this question informally with the German foreign office and at the state department's direction said that a most unfavorable impression was being created in neutral countries, particularly the United States.

First Effort Failed

His effort was unavailing, however. The foreign office, in a note now on its way to Washington, replied that deportation of the Belgians was a military necessity and was being carried on in accordance with international law governing the treatment of populations in conquered territory.

The charge's preliminary report, the latest appeal for aid from the Belgian minister and other information in the hands of the state department were discussed at yesterday's cabinet meeting, and Sec. Lansing remained with the president for nearly half an hour after the other members left.

Ambassador Gerard, here for final conferences before returning to Berlin, and Col. E. M. House also talked over the plight of the Belgians during visits to the White House and the state department.

THE CORONATION OF EMPEROR CHARLES

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 29.—A Budapest despatch to the Cologne Gazette says the Hungarian opposition is working hard to prevent Premier Tizsa from assisting the Hungarian coronation at the coming coronation of Emperor Charles. The ground of the opposition's campaign is that Count Tizsa is a Protestant. Efforts were made to influence the cardinal, but he declared the official in the Kingdom could not be pushed into the background at the coronation.

CAMERA CLUB FORMED
A new camera club was organized last evening at the Y.M.C.A. The following officers were elected: President, P. B. Robinson; vice president, Will Boudens; secretary, R. L. Far-best; treasurer, Fred Eubank. Necessary sub-committees were named from the other members already enrolled among whom are Arthur Harrison, R. Jones, R. R. Gumb, Edward Doolley, C. L. VanHorn and C. McCard. New members are invited to join at once by registering with R. R. Gumb at the Y.M.C.A. office.

HEALTH.

Taunton, Mass.—"The Favorite Prescription has done wonders for me and for my family. I seemed to be going into a decline. My friends were terribly worried about me and my sister insisted on my taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was miraculous in its results and I have been an unusually healthy woman ever since. "I cannot say enough in praise of this medicine and am always glad to recommend it."—MRS. LILLIAN E. MACADAM, 29 Smith St., Taunton, Mass.

A pretty face is the result of a healthy physical condition. "Beauty is but skin deep," yet it greatly depends on a clear complexion, free from wrinkles and hollow cheeks.

Health always brings wealth of beauty. A healthy state of the system comes with Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine prepared for women's ailments—it cures those derangements and weaknesses which make woman's life miserable.

It is prepared from nature's roots and herbs and does not contain a particle of alcohol or any narcotic. It's not a secret prescription for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper.

Women are earnestly advised to take it for irregular or painful periods, backache, headache, displacement, catarrhal condition, hot flashes, sallow complexion and nervousness.

Write Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for free 136-page book on woman's diseases or send 10c for large trial package of "Favorite Prescription" tablets.

The sluggish liver can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Bileousness, coated tongue, bad breath, mead cleared up and banished by the use of these tiny sugar-coated granules.

ATTY. GENERAL PROBES HIGH COST OF LIVING

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Atty. Gen. Henry C. Atwill, who announced about two weeks ago that he would begin an inquiry into the high cost of living, is not quite ready to discuss the case as yet, although, in an interview today, he declared that he might have the desired evidence. He stated, however, that he is not quite ready to take the public into his confidence, and intimated that his position as a public law officer forbids him from making his findings known.

Thousands of persons all over the state are eagerly awaiting the results of the investigation, this being evidenced by the fact that telephone calls are received every day at the state house asking for information as to its progress and these come from nearly every section of the commonwealth.

When Mr. Atwill announced that he would make this investigation it aroused great interest because of his well known success in investigation of other commercial crimes in the past, with the result that many citizens who are suffering from the exorbitant prices of the present day at once rallied to his side and would co-operate with him if it were possible.

Mr. Atwill is convinced, however, that outside assistance would result in destroying the detective value of his bureau. He has marshalled all the law on the subject, and all that remains to be done now, it is claimed, is to determine the facts and select the statute fitted to it. He is firm in his position, however, that all persons found violating any of the laws in regard to high prices of foodstuffs or other necessities of life will be brought to terms before the inquiry is finished.

Regardless of all difficulties, Mr. Atwill declares that he will go through to the finish with the inquiry and that when all the information is at hand he will take whatever steps may be necessary to prosecute all those believed to be guilty of advancing prices in the face of what threatens to be a shortage.

The attorney general's inquiry embraces several business food, and the high cost of coal will be carefully investigated before he has finished his work.

GERMANY EXACTS LAST DROP FROM BELGIUM

PARIS, Nov. 29.—The German authorities have issued a decree imposing further payment of 10,000,000 francs a month on Belgium, according to a Havas despatch from Havre. This is additional to the existing levy of 480,000,000 francs. The despatch says that the provincial councils have been convened for Dec. 2 in order to approve the new imposition.

Good time, A.O.H. hall, tonight.

ST. MARGARET'S PARISH IN ANNUAL REUNION

ASSOCIATE HALL CROWDED WITH MERRY GATHERING OF THE MEMBERS AND THEIR FRIENDS

Associate hall was last evening the scene of a large and enthusiastic gathering, the occasion being the annual reunion of St. Margaret's parish. The large hall was taxed to its capacity, those present spent a most enjoyable evening and the receipts of the affair were very substantial.

The hall was handsomely decorated, the prevailing colors being purple and white. The stage background was a mass of purple with a cluster of American flags in the center. About the sides was a lattice work effect entwined with greenery and flowers, while the side walls and gallery front were set with hanging of purple and white. Streamers alternating in colors were suspended from the slides and caught up at the center chandelier.

In the early evening a most delightful entertainment program was given by Scott and Bayard, two professional entertainers of Boston, whose specialty was a miniature minstrel in which a generous sprinkling of local comedy was injected. This part of the program was very pleasing and the performers were greeted with prolonged applause.

At the close of the entertainment general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour to the sweet strains of music furnished by Broderick's orchestra.

The success of the evening was due to the generous efforts of Mr. G. J. Galligan and his assistant, Rev. William H. O'Connell and the following committees: General manager, Frank Campbell; assistant general manager, William F. Thornton; floor director, Harry McDermott; assistant floor director, William Hennessy; chief aids, Henry McCarthy, James Connelly, Paul Green.

Lowell Aerie will hold class initiation Thursday afternoon, November 30, 1916, in Eagles Hall at 2.30 o'clock. Per order

PATRICK J. MCCANN, Worthy President JOHN M. HOGAN, Secretary

THIS IS TURKEY DAY

TURKEY ..... 25c Lb.
GEESSE ..... 22c Lb.
FOWL ..... 20c Lb.

Sensational stories about the high price of Turkeys this year are not based on facts. A large shipment of the very choicest turkeys will arrive at the Union Market today by express. These birds were bought at the last minute, and the prices compare very favorably with last year's. No better looking or finer eating turkeys can be bought. The prices will be from 25c for a good eating turkey to 35c for the very best in the market. No higher price.
